TRANSFER TO KARACHI

Western Command
Headquarters

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 14.
An official statement issued by the India Office last night says:—
It is anticipated that the Headquarters of the Western Command will be transferred from Quetta to Karachi before the end of June and that General Sir Ivor Vesev,
the new General Officer Commanding-in-Chief, will assume command
there on his arrival from England.
The Headquarters of the Baluchistan District will, however, remain in Quetta under the command of General Karslake.

It is estimated that about 20,000 survivors have been evacuated by special trains since June 1. The majority of these survivors belong to the Punjab and Sind. Delicate children have been evacuated by air to avoid the risks of heat in the Sind Desert. Six hundred and thirty-six patients have now been evacuated by ambulance trains. Approximately 100 cases have still to be transferred. The latest reliable figures of casualties in Kalat State are 2,900 killed and 5,000 injured out of a population of 10,000 in the stricken area.

POSTAL SERVICES

The Governor-General in Council has decided to depute immediately to Quetta Lieutenant Colonel Russell, I.M.S., Public Health Commissioner with the Government of India, to investigate, in consultation with the local medical and public health authorities, the health situation at Quetta, and to submit a report thereon with special reference to the question when it would be possible and hygienically safe to start salvage operations. Mr. B. M. Stalg, I.C.S., Financial Adviser, Military Finance,
has been appointed Earthquake
Commissioner.

Orders have been issued to all post offices in India and Burma directing them to deliver without taxing all unregistered articles posted at Quetta, Mastung, and Kalat (all places in Baluchistan which have suffered from the earthquake), if such articles are either unstamped or under stamped. The orders apply to inland as well as to foreign articles, whether intended to be conveyed by air or by a surface route. The British Post Office has been requested not to tax letters sent from these offices,
whether they are conveyed by sea
or by air.

WHITHER HONG KONG?

No Fear For Water Supply!

London, June 25.
The Minister of Health, Sir
Kingsley Wood, speaking at the Guildhall in London to-day, said that there need be no anxiety about water supplies this year.
The Reservoirs were now full and even with a dry summer there need be no apprehension, so far as the urban areas were concerned.

Since the war about ten million pounds had been spent on improving water conditions in rural areas and there had been recently an additional grant of one million pounds to assist the schemes.

ROYAL NAVY

The Royal Sovereign

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 14.
Consequent upon his promotion to flag rank on May 9, Rear-Admiral B. H. Ramsay, M.V.O., will relinquish command of the battleship Royal Sovereign on June 18.
In August he is to become Chief of Staff to Admiral Sir Roger Back-house when that officer succeeds
Admiral Lord Cork as Commanding-in-Chief of the Home Fleet.

Capt. Frank Elliott, O.B.E., who succeeds to the command of the Royal Sovereign, at present refitting at Portsmouth, hauled down his broad pendant as Commodore-in-Charge at Hong Kong on April 19. His last sea appointment was in command of the Courageous as Flag-Captain to the Rear-Admiral.
Aircraft Carriers, in 1932-33. During the War Captain Elliott was gunnery officer of the battleships
Agincourt and Benbow, in the Grand Fleet. He has since been
Naval Secretary to the Ordnance
Committee, in command of Devonport Gunnery School, and Deputy Director of Naval Ordnance. He was promoted to captain in December, 1925.

H.M.S. ADVENTURE

A new departure is indicated by the announcement that H.M.S.
Adventure, Captain W. H. Gell,
D.S.O., belonging to the China
Station, will recommission at Hongkong between March 10 and 17, 1936, and that her new crew will take passage there in the transport Nevasa. The pre-war practice was to convey new crews for ships of this size—the Adventure has a complement of about 400—in cruisers from the Reserve which during the voyage out and home formed temporary additions to the strength of the squadrons on the stations through which they passed. The shortage of cruisers since the Washington and London
Treaties does not allow of this, and the ships have returned home to re-commission. In the case of the Adventure a middle course is chosen, and she will come halfway, thereby shortening considerably the time she will be absent from her station.

SIGNAL DEPARTMENT

Commander A. K. Scott-Moncrieff, who is to join the Signal
Department, Admiralty, relieves Commander R. H. V. Buxton, who has served for the customary two years. Commander Scott-Moncrieff was promoted at the New Year
after having been fleet signal officer on board the Queen Elizabeth,
Mediterranean Fleet, since 1932.
He passed out of Dartmouth as midshipman with seniority of January 1, 1917, and served during the last two years of the War in the battleship Orion, Captain Eric
Fullerton, flagship of Rear-Admiral
W. E. Goodenough. In 1923, after a commission in the Queen Elizabeth as watchkeeper, he became
Flag Lieutenant to Admiral Sir
Reginald Tyrwhitt when commanding at Rosyth, and in 1925 was appointed to specialize in signals duties. He was afterwards signal officer in the 3rd Destroyer Flotilla, sent to China at the time of the threat to Shanghai, and in 1929
became Flag Lieutenant-Commander to Rear-Admiral Best in the 2nd Cruiser Squadron. He was on the staff of the Signal School in 1931-32.

SHORTAGE OF PETTY OFFICERS

The number of leading seamen qualified for advancement to petty officer is insufficient to meet prospective requirements. It has therefore been decided that a strictly limited number of petty officers of the seaman class shall be permitted to re-engage on or after completing time for pension. The dual object is to meet authorized manning commitments in respect of petty officers, and to control excessive fluctuations in the time spent by leading seamen on the advancement roster for petty officer. Eligible ratings may apply for re-engagement at any time within one year prior to discharge to pension.

BIG MAJORITY FOR INDIA BILL

Defeated Litigant With Grievance

(Special Air Mail Service)

Westminster, June 7.
By a majority of 388 to 122 the India Bill was given its Third Reading in the House of Commons to-night. On the Second Reading, in February, the figures were 404 to 133. Both minorities show Socialists and Conservative opponents voting together.

When the result of the division was announced there was loud cheering, but little excitement and no display of party feeling. After a cry: "Where are the abstentions?" members began to file out.

The Attorney-General, Sir Thomas Inskip, who made the last speech for the Government, began quietly with a justification of the bill as a practical response to demands from India which we were bound to satisfy.

When dealing with the trade question, he declared that if India had not been granted the right to manage her fiscal affairs there would have been a Nemesius, interruptions broke out, cheers and counter-cheers.

The boycott was ended, Sir Thomas went on, not by a display of military force, but by the increase of good will. There were voices of angry denial, cheers of approval.

ATTACK ON MR. CHURCHILL
Then he turned to Mr. Churchill's efforts to revive the issues of the Privileges Report, and he hit hard. Mr. Churchill reminded him of a litigant against whom judgment had been given and who frequented the courts to persuade somebody he had a grievance.

Mr. Churchill protested in an angry interruption, but Sir Thomas stood by his comparison.

He passed on to comment on Mr. Churchill's hint that he meant to carry on the fight against the bill, as contrasted with the promises of acceptance of it when on the Statute Book given by Sir Henry Page Croft yesterday and Lord Wolmer to-day. They, he remarked, had been longer attached to the Conservative party than Mr. Churchill.

Lord Wolmer rose and protested that he was not conscious of the slightest difference in the statements. Sir Thomas Inskip replied that he was glad that it should be so. Nothing could be more damaging to constitutional Government than guerilla warfare to embitter the relations of Britain and India.

Then came another shrewd stroke at Mr. Churchill for his objection to extending representative institutions to India. Through 20 years Mr. Churchill has been offering the flowers of Victorian Liberalism to anyone who would receive them. Now he seemed to think self-government was under a cloud. It was not so within the British Empire.

This fighting speech ended with a declaration that the bill, the gift of the greatest majority ever known in our Parliament, might prove once more the genius of the British race for government.

A GLOOMY FORECAST
Earlier in the debate Mr. Churchill had attacked the bill with his utmost amplitude of rhetoric.

The speech was full of perorations, it abounded in biting phrases and lofty metaphor. It was set to a key of the deepest gloom, developed with menaces of enduring controversy, and prognostications of disaster.

He began with protests that the long fight had been made uneven by the Government's use of its power and a claim that he and his friends represented a third of the Conservative party. Their differences were quite unrecalled.

Then he took up the main points of his objections to the bill. Whether the Government would succeed "by all their arts" in persuading a quota of 50 per cent. of the Princes to come in, was matter for argument, but he "hassarded the opinion" that 60 per cent. would not be achieved, because the Princes would not set themselves against their compatriots of the Congress party.

The course of debate, he argued, had shown the justification for his objections to entrusting "law and order" to the Provincial Governments. Against the danger to British trade he had done his best to arouse the people of Lancashire, but he confessed that there had been no effective response.

"MARE'S NESTS" REPLY
Then came a reply to the charge that he had found "mare's nests" in his opposition. The recent Report of the Select Committee on Witnesses, he claimed, destroyed the foundation on which the Committee of Privileges had acquitted Sir Samuel Hoare. It was clearly shown to be "inappropriate" that he should have put pressure on Lancashire people and suffered "bowdlerised" evidence to be put in.

The bill did nothing for the Indian masses, Stricker and more vigorous administration alone could alleviate their lot. What they were offered was a Liberal formula, levying taxation upon them "for a political excursion in a Western charabanc."

If the country could be consulted the bill would be rejected. His friends had neither the intention nor the power to obstruct the setting up of the Provincial Governments.

Sir Samuel Hoare had his day of triumph. He marched on from strength to strength. He had carried his mammoth bill. Ten years hence India would be in the main his handiwork. But he had not gained a victory for this country, nor for India. Mr. Churchill summed all up with a prognostication that the knell of the British Empire was sounding.

Then Mr. Amery remarked: "Here endeth the last chapter of the Book of the Prophet Jeremiah."

Later on in the evening Sir Samuel Hoare announced that he had the command of the King to state that his Majesty had been pleased to place at the disposal of Parliament for the purposes of the bill his interest in the territorial and other revenues of the Crown in India.

Viscount Wolmer summed up the case of the Conservative opposition with ability and force, stressing chiefly their preference for the scheme of the Simon Report and their fears for the Indian masses. His declaration as to the future action of his friends was less menacing than Mr. Churchill's.

COURT ORGANISATION
New System Introduced

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Nanking, June 18.
Altogether the high courts of 14 provinces have already reported to the Ministry of Justice that they have completed the necessary preparations for the enforcement of the new system of Court organization on July 1, in conformity with the new Law governing the Organization of Courts which comes into force on that date.

The enforcement of the new system will be postponed for one year in the provinces of Ninghsia, Kweichow, Kweichow and Kwangtung, where preparations for the introduction of the new system are not expected to be completed by July 1. Four provinces, namely, Sinkiang, Suiyuan, Chinghai and Yunnan, have not yet reported to the Ministry.

THREE GRADES
The new system, it may be noted, will provide for only three grades of courts instead of the present four; namely, the District Court, the High Court and the Supreme Court. As the introduction of the new system is likely to cause an increase in the cases to be handled by the Provincial High Courts, more branches of High Courts will have to be established in each province for argument, but he "hassarded the opinion" that 60

SIR CHARLES
MADDEN

Fifty Five Years In The Navy

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 7.
Admiral of the Fleet Sir Charles Madden, died in a London nursing home at three a.m. on Wednesday at the age of 72.

Sir Charles had been suffering from blood poisoning. Although he never sought popularity, Sir Charles Madden was known throughout the Navy as one who would ever be trusted to "play the game" and "play straight."

His abilities, his devotion to duty and his capacity for hard work were so marked that during his long career in the Royal Navy the authorities gave him little release from active duties.

As a Flag officer Admiral Madden was second to none in his record of continuous service; one appointment followed another in quick succession, and during the 12 years which followed his promotion to Rear-admiral he was employed almost continuously afloat.

Charles Edward Madden, the son of Captain J. W. Madden, of the Royal Sussex Regiment, was born in 1862, and entered the Navy as a naval cadet aged 13.

"BLUE WATER" SCHOOL

He early gained a reputation in the Navy as an officer of judgment and determination. Brought up in the days when steam was looked on as an auxiliary to sail, and having spent the major portion of his career afloat, with only short intervals of administrative work on shore, Madden was typical of the "blue water" school.

His love for the sea as he had known it in his younger days did not, however, prevent him advancing with the times, and, with other notable officers of the transition period, he kept himself in touch with the changes brought about by modern science. Ever to the fore in assisting to give practical effect to the inevitable changes introduced, he did as much, if not more, than others to improve the efficiency of the Fleet and to raise it to that high standard which was attained before the outbreak of the Great War.

UNTIRING ENERGY

Madden's first experience in high administrative work on shore was in 1910, when he served as Fourth Sea Lord on the Board of Admiralty for a short period before assuming his flag afloat as Rear-admiral of the then Home Fleet. From this command he passed to the command of a cruiser squadron, and at the outbreak of the Great War had completed two years' active command afloat, an experience which was to stand him in good stead during the following momentous years.

When, at the beginning of August 1914, Admiral Jellicoe was ordered to succeed Admiral Callaghan in command of the Grand Fleet, he selected his brother-in-law, Rear-admiral Madden, as his Chief of Staff, knowing full well that Madden's untiring energy and wide experience would prove of inestimable value in assisting to wield the gigantic weapon which had been handed over in such good condition by Sir George Callaghan.

Madden's unfailing courtesy and quiet manner did much to advance that spirit of comradeship between leaders without which success in warfare is impossible. Was not only a great help, but a true and sincere friend to his respected Commander-in-Chief.

MORE IMPORTANT

In November, 1918, when Lord Jellicoe gave up the command of the Grand Fleet to assume the more important office of First Sea Lord, his late Chief of Staff was appointed in command of the First Battle Squadron and second in command of the Grand Fleet, which position he held until the Armistice. The continued efficiency of our Grand Fleet and our success during the war, the result of which was largely determined at sea, was to no little extent due to Sir Charles Madden.

For his services during the war Madden was created a baronet and G.C.B.; he was also honoured by decorations conferred on him by France, Russia, Japan, Italy, Belgium and China.

After serving as Commander-in-Chief of the Atlantic Fleet from 1919-22, Sir Charles Madden was appointed First and Principal Naval A.D.C. to the King; he held this office until his promotion to Admiral of the Fleet in July 1924.

Are you over 40?

Difficult breathing, headaches, dizziness, sleeplessness, lack of appetite and high blood pressure are some of the dreaded symptoms of advancing age. Increasing the amount of minerals in the body is, next to the leading of a regular life, the most logical way to restore undisturbed Health.

You can do this easily with Kalzana tablets, because here you have a mineral food that builds up better Health in an entirely natural manner.

A well-known physician describing his experience of Kalzana Tablets with 6 patients, writes:

"Kalzana had a very favourable influence. The vitality of the patients improved remarkably, the shortness of breath disappeared and the dizziness, headache, lack of appetite and sleeplessness were conquered."

An English Doctor writes:—

"I find that 'Bisurated' Magnesia taken after most of my meals is the only thing that keeps me free from pain and discomfort, and I take it regularly. I often prescribe it for my patients, and have had very good results."

(Signed) Dr. H. G. M.A., M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P.

THE English doctor is the most conservative medical man in the world, and when he not only recommends but personally uses a remedy there can be no more convincing proof of its efficacy. This doctor is but one of many who constantly advise the use of "Bisurated" Magnesia in all cases of indigestion. Most stomach trouble is caused by acidity, and the reason why "Bisurated" Magnesia gives quick relief is that it instantly neutralizes excess acid, soothes, heals and strengthens the inflamed stomach lining. Nothing could be simpler, safer or surer. If you suffer with indigestion or stomach disorder of any kind put your faith in European science and make an end of your troubles by taking "Bisurated" Magnesia after eating or whenever pain is felt.

STAPLES SURPRISES!

Emergency Meals

— FOR UNEXPECTED GUESTS

Friends sometimes have a knack of dropping in on us unexpectedly. What can the larder produce for a meal? Those simple quickly made dishes.

HAM CROQUETTES

Soon prepared and cooked. Mince or chop finely the remains of cold ham, and half the quantity of cooked potatoes, a hard boiled egg chopped finely, two teaspoonsful of chopped parsley, and a pinch of thyme.

Season with pepper and salt, bind together with a beaten egg, then form into croquettes. Brush over with the beaten egg, sprinkle with breadcrumbs, fry in hot fat until a golden brown, drain, well, and serve with fried bread.

POTATO OMELETTE

Another quick dish for when friends drop in. This omelette goes well with fried bacon or cutlets. Mix two tablespoonsful of mashed potatoes with a beaten egg, season with pepper and salt and a pinch of chopped parsley. Beat well together, then heat a small nut of butter in a pan, and pour in the mixture.

Fry gently, lift the edges up with a knife, and when nicely browned, fold over and serve at once with fried bacon.

A filling of fried tomatoes placed in the potato omelette is delicious.

SAVOURY EGGS

When quick cooking is demanded, make this.

Butter fireproof dish, put a layer of mashed (with butter) potato. Then put in halved hard-boiled eggs, with the flat rounded sides down, cutting a small piece off to make them stand. Pour over a little white sauce, with grated cheese added, sprinkle with fine breadcrumbs, and chopped parsley. Brown under the grill for a few minutes.

LIGHT DISHES

For Buffet Suppers

An appetizing little buffet supper is often preferred by the family to the more elaborate dinner. Here are some suggestions for excellent main dishes which, though sufficiently substantial, are yet easily digested.

Two hot egg dishes which are easy to prepare. For the first allow for each person two eggs, a tomato, one ounce cheese, half an ounce of butter and half a gill of cream.

Butter a flat earthenware dish which is large enough to hold the eggs. Shred the cheese and place it in a layer on top of the butter. Break the eggs on to this, keeping them whole. Halve the tomatoes and arrange these between the eggs, sprinkle with salt and pepper, pour in the cream, cover fairly thickly with grated Parmesan cheese, and cook in a hot oven for four or five minutes.

The second is equally simple. Allow for each person two eggs, half a gill of cream, a small onion, a gill of milk, half an ounce of flour.

Boil the onions in salted water till soft. Drain and cut into thin slices. Melt the butter in a pan, stir in the flour, cook for a few minutes, stirring all the time, then gradually add the milk, still stirring. Add onions, salt and pepper, and cook for fifteen minutes. Hard-boil the eggs, shell and cut them into slices, and arrange in a hot dish. Draw the onion sauce away from the fire, add the cream, pour the sauce over the sliced eggs and sprinkle with chopped parsley.

TO-DAY'S RECIPE

Walnut Cake

A delicious party cake is made as follows: Sieve into a mixing-bowl eight ounces of self-raising flour and a pinch of salt. Beat to a cream six ounces of castor sugar and six ounces of butter. Then beat in three eggs and a tablespoonful of milk, or four eggs, alternately with a tablespoonful of the flour. At this stage beat thoroughly, then lightly sift in the remainder of the flour; add two ounces of finely chopped walnuts. Divide the mixture between two sandwich tins and bake for about half an hour in a moderate to hot oven (360 deg.). While the cake is baking make a filling from three ounces of icing sugar and an ounce and a half of butter. Beat until light, add a few drops of lemon juice and cochineal, and an ounce of chopped walnuts. When the cake is baked trim it round the edges, crumble the trimmings, and add them to the filling, which should be spread between the two halves. Make some icing from six ounces of sieved icing sugar and two tablespoonsful of water. Heat gently together until luke-warm, colour pale pink with cochineal, remove from the heat, and beat well until of just the right consistency to pour on to the cake and set almost at once. Decorate the top with walnut halves.

POTATO CREAM

This is a delightful way of cooking old potatoes which at the end of the season often have an unpleasant earthy taste when boiled or steamed in the usual manner. Boil the potatoes in salted water, together with an onion in which three or four cloves have been pushed. Drain and dry the potatoes well; then put them through a sieve. Put back into the saucepan, add pepper, a little more salt, and some cream. Then beat for several minutes until the potatoes are light, smooth, and creamy. If liked they can then be put into a flat dish sprinkled with grated cheese and breadcrumbs, dotted with butter, and browned under the grill.

FOR BREAKFAST

A good substantial dish is made from brains and bacon. The brains should be prepared the day before by washing them in salted water, removing any fibres, then simmering in boiling salted water to which a little vinegar has been added for twenty minutes. Drain well, then leave the brains pressed between two dishes until the following morning. Divide them up into convenient pieces, roll in seasoned breadcrumbs, and fry in boiling fat until brown and crisp. Fry or grill as many rashers of bacon as are required, place on a hot dish, and arrange the brains on them.

WAYS, TO COOK CHICKEN

STRAINED CHICKEN OKRA FRAPPE

Braise some chopped onions, celery okra and tomatoes in butter, then add chicken broth and let the mixture boil for one and a half hours. Strain the contents into a stone jar and let it jelly. Serve cold.

ITALIAN CHICKEN

Cook a small chicken, shred the meat into thin, silver-like pieces. Cook half a pound of vermicelli, and drain. Spread upon a platter and cover the vermicelli with highly seasoned tomato sauce. Lay the shredded chicken upon it. Have ready four sticks of celery and one Bermuda onion, cut fine which have been seasoned with salt, pepper and a dash of ginger, and cook until brown in a little butter. Spread over the chicken and place the dish in the oven to make it very hot. (Moisten with a little broth, if needed.)

Milk Drinks

EGG NOG

3 eggs
Pinch of salt
1 cup sugar
1 cup berry juice, or
2 tablespoons sherry flavoured
2 cups chilled evaporated milk
2 cups ice water

Few grains nutmeg
Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon coloured, and whites until stiff. Add salt, sugar and flavouring to yolks, combine well and add milk and water. Fold in the egg whites, pour into tall glasses and sprinkle top with nutmeg.

BLACK COW

1 cup chilled evaporated milk
1 cup ice water
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon root beer extract
Dash nutmeg
Dash cinnamon

Whisk with a Dover beater. Serve with chilled ice.

ICED COFFEE AU LAIT

2 cups chilled evaporated milk
3 cups good strong cold coffee
1 cup sugar
1 cup ice water
2 tablespoons port or sherry
flavouring

Shake vigorously and serve with chilled ice.

SPICED MILK

Few gratings nutmeg
Cinnamon or mace to taste
3 tablespoons sugar or to taste
2 cups evaporated milk diluted with
2 cups ice water

Add spices and sugar to diluted milk. Stir vigorously to dissolve sugar. Serve with chilled ice.

CARAMEL MILK SHAKE

2 cup chilled evaporated milk
1 cup ice water
Pinch salt
3 tablespoons caramel syrup
Shake vigorously and serve with chilled ice.

Caramel syrup: Dissolve 4 cups granulated sugar in 1 cup water in a thin aluminum pan. Cover and boil rapidly until syrup becomes quite thick. Then remove cover and cook slowly and carefully until the characteristic amber color is attained. Draw the pan to the edge of the stove and add 2 cups boiling water very slowly. (When water is added to hot caramel a great lot of steam is formed and there is danger of being burned.) Continue heating until caramel dissolves. This should require only 3 or 4 minutes. There should be 3 cups syrup. If not, make up with hot water. Pour into a clear jar and keep covered.

EXTRA DAINTY

Specially attractive confections are sometimes wanted for a birthday or other party.

PASTRY CREAM SLICES

Light and delicious for teatime or supper, with a real party flavour.

Roll some puff pastry out evenly to 1/16 in. thickness and 1 yard length. Sprinkle with caster sugar, fold over and press out. Cut into slices, sprinkle with more caster sugar, and bake in a hot oven until brown.

When cold, cut the slices in halves, spread with raspberry jam and whipped cream. Place gently together, without pressing out the cream, then sprinkle with icing sugar.

DAFFODIL CAKES

Decorative and seasonable on the party table.

Ingredients: 6 oz. flour, 4 oz. caster sugar, 4 eggs, 3 oz. butter, a pinch of salt a pinch or two of saffron.

Cream the sugar and butter well, then add the yolks of the eggs and very gradually the sieved flour and salt. Lastly fold in the stiffly whisked whites of the eggs the saffron.

Half fill some small paper cases, and bake in a fairly hot oven for ten minutes. Cover with lemon icing, with a pinch of saffron added.

NEW TRADE ROUTE

Across The Arctic

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 17.

A new trade route enabling Russia to carry goods to her Far Eastern territories by the Great North Route across the Arctic Ocean will be opened this summer.

Two Soviet steamers, carrying 200,000 tons of cargo, will be the first ships across. One will leave Murmansk for Petropavlovsk, in Kamchatka, and the other will sail from Archangel for Vladivostok.

This new trade route is the result of work by explorers, who for years have been trying to find a way of accomplishing the hazardous voyage in a single summer before the sea freezes.

RADIO STATIONS

Professor Otto Schmidt, leader of the ill-fated Chelivsk expedition, the members of which were rescued from the ice-floes by airplane last year, says that the period of exploration has now passed.

The time has now come, he says, for "experimental exploitation," which, he estimates, will require about two years. After this he is convinced that cargoes carried through the Polar seas to the Far East will have increased tenfold.

Newly established radio stations meteorological stations and air bases have been set up by the Soviet authorities along the Arctic coast.

These will keep in touch with cargo-carrying steamers, and the airplanes will go to their assistance if they are threatened by the treacherous pack-ice.

In addition, cargo boats will be accompanied at first by ice-breakers.

This summer, then, will see the beginning of what may become a great commercial transport route. Its development is regarded by the Government as important, first, because it provides cheap transport for goods between European Russia and Eastern Russia in time of peace, and second, because it will insure the maintenance of military supplies to the Far Eastern Red Army with Siberia in case railway connections with Western industrial Russia are ever cut in time of war.

CHINESE GIRL FLIES TO GRETNNA

But The Blacksmith Must Say "No"

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 7.

A little Chinese girl is in love with a Chinese boy of the same age. They have chartered a plane at Liverpool and are flying to Gretna.

But—alas!—they are going to be disappointed. For the old blacksmith can't marry them.

The girl is 17. She has western ideas. She refuses to submit to her father's embargo that the wedding should not take place for a year.

AFTER THE PARTY

The romantic pair are Shek Zu Kau and Li Shou Than, two members of a Chinese troupe at a Liverpool circus. It was after their betrothal party at a restaurant at Liverpool China town on Saturday that the bride-elect heard of Gretna Green and planned, with her lover, a lightning elopement.

They crept away from the circus to-day, engaged a private six-seater plane, and took off for Carlisle, intending to reach Gretna by car.

Father heard about the elopement later.

But what the couple had forgotten was that there are regulations even at Gretna. Telephones and telegrams are faster than aeroplanes.

SYMPATHETIC SMITH

Mr. Harrison, the blacksmith at the Gretna Green smithy, told an "Evening News" representative that he would have to refuse to perform the marriage when the couple arrived, as they had not been resident in Scotland for the required period.

"I am afraid they will be disappointed lovers when they get here," he said, "because I cannot marry them."

On the application of the police the Alcester (Warwickshire) magistrates yesterday granted a warrant for the arrest of Rear-Admiral George Whittle Phillips, who was stated to be staying at an hotel at Bristol.

He was accused of wilfully damaging three 30 miles an hour traffic signs at Bidford and Salford.

The clerk read a letter in which Rear-Admiral Phillips said that he regretted that it would be impossible for him to attend court.

"I shall probably be on the Continent in connection with matters of the defence of civil population in aerial attack," he wrote from a Birmingham hotel.

He pleaded not guilty, and said it would appear that the valuation of the damage was much too high.

Awkward

"Yes," said he, "I once had a very clever house-dog. He could always tell the difference between a gentleman and a tramp."

"And what happened to him?" asked a friend.

"Oh, I had to put him away. He bit me!"

LOTTERY BRIDE

A new era in American music for the screen is inaugurated by Rudolf Friml's compositions for "Lottery Bride" Arthur Hammerstein's production for United Artists, showing at the Oriental Theatre to-morrow and Saturday.

This, the verdict of those who heard the Friml music written especially for the Hammerstein film light opera. They call it the finest creation of the composer's career, and when one remembers the musical splendor of "Rose Marie," "Katinka," "Firefly," "High Jinks" and "Sweet Adeline," the praise bears significance.

STOLEN HARMONY

Motion pictures from Hollywood that boast a number of Broadway celebrities in their cast are no novelty and longer. But motion pictures that boast an almost exclusively Broadway cast are.

Such a picture is Paramount's "Stolen Harmony," coming to the Alhambra Theatre on Saturday which has practically no yded in the wool celluloiders in its playing cast.

George Raft and Ben Bernie, who with his lads, are starred both had their starts on theatrical careers along the Main Stem.

Supporting them in the principal featured roles are a group of players whose names are still familiar to the habitués of the White Way. They are Grace Bradley, Lloyd Nolan, Goodie Montgomery, Ralf Harold, Charlie Arnt, Paul Gerrits, Iris Adrian, Cully Richards and Jack Norton.

WEAK WOMAN!

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 14.

Dr. Leonard Lockhart (of the Industrial Research Board) has protested against the attribution of weakness to women, as a sex; against the exaggeration of sex differences; against the idea of an exclusively man-run society—in fact, against all the old ideas that are newly expressed, almost every day, by men; most of whom must be perfectly accustomed to working with or near women, yet somehow feel themselves victims of a monstrous conspiracy as they do so.

The fact is, we think, that all men and many women carry about with them divided personalities.

One person in us will accept obvious realities.

The other will go home and write letters to the newspapers against the realities already admitted and accepted.

Hence the idea of a monstrous regiment of women.

Hence also, surely, the idea that this is still an exclusively man-run society.

Isn't Dr. Lockhart imagining that he lives under Queen Victoria?

That was a long time ago.

Here, to-day, we live in a society that advertises women's achievements; boasts the feminine as essential, daily miraculous, gives to women twenty times the advertisement given to men, and rarely ceases talking about the "wonderfulness" of women, as they do everything they ought to do and a good many things that perhaps were better left undone.

NEW TELEVISION SECRET

Approaching The Cinema Film

A television secret of first importance was revealed recently, says a correspondent. The Marconi-E.M.I. Company, it was stated, is ready to supply transmitters for a public service using a far higher standard of definition than that recommended by the Government Television Committee in February.

Lord Inverforth, the chairman, said at the annual general meeting of the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company that the transmitters were capable of 405 line pictures repeated 50 times a second. It is the first disclosure of E.M.I. television developments since that company was chosen to participate in the operating of the first London high-definition station, in alternate transmissions with the Baird Company.

This definition compares with 240 lines and 25 pictures a second recommended by the Television Committee. In theory the greater the number of lines used, the nearer to perfection the moving pictures would be. Each component picture of a television transmission is sent over the air piecemeal in strips or lines, corresponding to the dots which compose a newspaper reproduction of a picture.

In the present crude low definition pictures sent out by the B.B.C. only 30 lines per picture are used. As the lines in television, or the dots in the newspaper are increased in number and packed closer together, so the picture improves in general quality and the amount of detail shown. A 700-line picture would probably be indistinguishable from a modern cinema film.

NO FLICKER

I am able to reveal further details of the Marconi-E.M.I. transmitter. A cathode ray scanner or "television eye" is used, acting very much like a cinema camera lens. With this method there is no need to use intermediate film for the transmission of topical events. It is claimed that flicker is entirely absent from the pictures. The standard size of a picture at the receiving end is eight inches by six.

Captain A. G. D. West, technical director of the Baird Co., stated that his company had privately demonstrated a 700-line picture. They were convinced, however, that 240 lines would give good definition in the home and that the general technique of transmission was not sufficiently advanced for the higher definitions. They were therefore standardizing their equipment on 240 lines.

The Lost

"Don't stand there loafing," said the college professor. "We're not loafing," spoke up a member of the group. "There's only three of us and it takes seven to make a loaf."

WAGGON WHEELS

At The Alhambra

A picture that is crammed with thrills and adventure, "Wagon Wheels," that is having its run at the Alhambra Theatre, should please fans who like excitement in the form of Western pictures.

The picture which is very well directed shows some of the actual hardships that beset the sturdy pioneers who took the first wagon train across the United States in 1844. Randolph Scott plays the role of an Indian fighting frontier scout. He wins the love of a lovely widow and her child, when he saves the entire caravan from death at the hands of savages.

There is always a villain in a show and Monte Blue is excellent as the renegade half-breed, through whose evil machinations the wagon train is almost captured by Indians. He is also the rival in love to Scott.

Comedy relief is supplied by Jan Duggan and Olin Howlands who makes love to "Jan" only for the opportunity of stealing the chickens that are being transported across the continent!

Others in this delightful adventure film are Gail Patrick and Raymond Hatton.

There is also an excellent Grantland Rice Sports feature, a screen song and newsreel which makes it all very acceptable.—O.M.O.

THE WITCHING HOUR

At The Queen's

"The Witching Hour" which had its premier run at the Queen's Theatre yesterday, is Paramount's production of August Thomas's famous play bearing the same name. The screen version has retained all the strange and mystic qualities that justly made the play popular.

The picture is a full-evening's entertainment. It depicts Tom Brown and Judith Allen as young lovers. One former comes under the strange hypnotic influence of the girl's father, John Halliday. The latter's power is unknown even to himself, and when his subconscious will is forced on Brown, the boy commits a murder. Halliday is horrified while Brown is bewildered at the action and can in fact remember nothing of the affair. One of the picture's most exciting moments is the thrilling Courtroom vindication, when the defense bases its case on a theory even stranger than the crime itself.

Although full of eerie situations the romantic side of the picture is not forgotten and affords good relief.

In the leading roles are Sir Guy Standing, John Halliday, Gertrude Michael, Tom Brown and William Frawley. Henry Hathaway directed.—S.M.N.

GOOD BARGAIN

What Blandford Returned

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 7.
Mr. R. C. Dawson and his brother did well when they bought Blandford's sire, Blandford, as a yearling in 1920 for 730 guineas.

His racing career was interfered with by various ailments. He won altogether only £3,668. His success at stud, however, from 1924, was phenomenal.

Up to the end of last season his stock won over £200,000 in the eight years during which colts and fillies sired by him had been racing.

Last year their stake totals were £75,707—beating by over £14,000 a record which had stood since 1886. The three next stallions on the list, Tetramata, Gainsborough, and Colorado, showed a combined total of £61,910.

GREATEST SINCE ST. SIMON
Besides the four Derby winners he also sired what the French consider the horse of the century. This is the unbeaten four-year-old, Brantôme.

Blandford spent the first nine years of his career at stud at Mr. Dawson's stables near Dublin. He was transferred to England in 1933, as the result of Mr. De Valera's fiscal policy.

When he died, at the age of 16, a few weeks ago, he was, it is believed, insured for £40,000. His total earnings must have been in the neighbourhood of six figures.

While Blandford ranks as the greatest sire since the Duke of Portland's St. Simon, one of the most remarkable mares of recent times was Perdita II.

King Edward bought her for his Sandringham stud in 1887. In 1907 he reckoned that her progeny had brought him in £250,000.

BING CROSBY

JOAN BENNETT

Watch for BELA LUGOSI in "MARK OF VAMPIRE"

MISSISSIPPI

As the "biggest liar on the river" and the champion callopie player of seven continents, W. C. Fields, dean of film comedians, plays his new starring role in Paramount's "Mississippi" having its initial screenings to-morrow at the Queen's Theatre.

A medley of song and entertainment, centring about Fields, the picture stars the famous comedian with Bing Crosby and Joan Bennett.

Crosby plays the part of a Yankee youth in the old South of criminal days who falls into disgrace and loses his sweetheart because of his unwillingness to duel with a stranger.

The old Commodore takes Crosby in tow, and between them they soon establish a reputation for the boy as the "Singing Killer," the most dangerous man with the sweetest voice on the father of rivers. Crosby falls in love with a girl who abhors duels, and then the commodore and Crosby are forced to unravel the reputation.

One of the largest production numbers of "Mississippi" is written about a novel arrangement of that favourite of all river songs—"Swanee." Rogers and Hart, famous songwriting team, composed four new tunes, including "Soon" and "It's Easy to Remember."

IMITATION OF LIFE

One man can play a scene in a motion picture but it takes seven men to film it. Even though the scene may be only the close-up of a face lasting a few seconds at least that many technicians and workmen are needed. When a picture has a director like John M. Stahl, who made Universal's "Imitation of Life," from the Fannie Hurst novel many more of the studio workers are pressed into service to shoot each sequence. The picture is now at the King's Theatre.

Claudette Colbert and Warren William, the stars, are the principals and from all accounts it is an excellent picture.

TRANSATLANTIC MERRY-GO-ROUND

"Transatlantic Merry-Go-Round," Reliance's sparkling new comedy drama with melody, mystery and romance, staged aboard a palatial ocean liner, comes to the King's Theatre on Sunday.

A great cast of screen and radio stars, headed by Jack Benny, Nancy Carroll and Gene Raymond is seen in this Harry M. Goetz-Edward Small production, which Benjamin Stoloff directed for release through United Artists.

Benny is seen as a genial master of ceremonies, broadcasting from the high seas, while Nancy plays Sally March, the star of his troupe, and Raymond is seen as a young Raffles who falls in love with her.

Among the famous screen and part in Benny's broadcasts are Mitzel Green, in her first grown-up role; Frank Parker, The Koswell sisters, Patsy Kelly, Jean Sargent and Jimmy Grier and his orchestra. Benny's famous satire, "Grind Hotel," is a high point of the programme.

NEW TO HIM

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 7.

After the dinner in his honour Lord Tweedsmuir will attend the premiere of the film of "The Thirty-Nine Steps," at the New Gallery.

The dinner will be given him not as Governor-General designate of Canada, but as John Buchanan, author of the famous thriller published in 1915, from which the film has been taken.

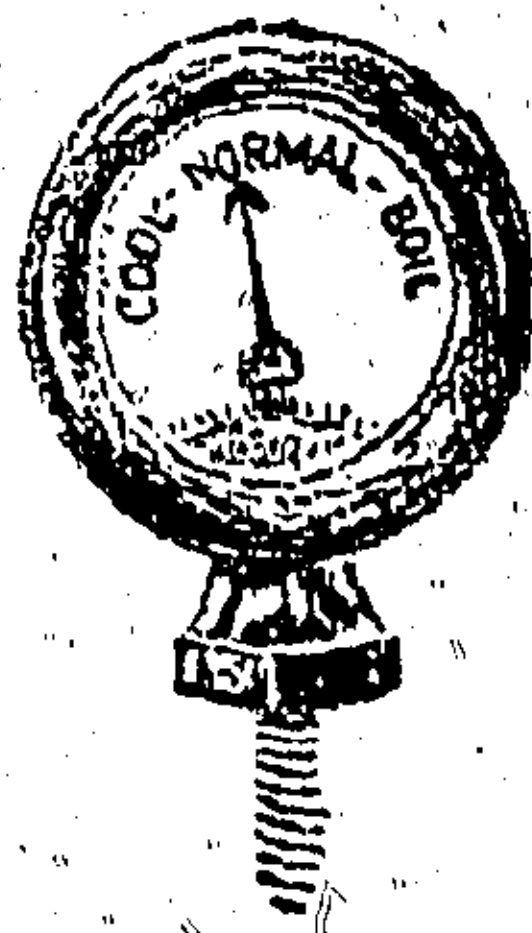

It will not have been in first visit to the film, as he has already seen it at a private showing. Like so many authors whose works have been screened, he found it a distinctly novel experience.

Though "The Thirty-Nine Steps" bears a closer relationship to the book than, say, "Lives of a Bengal Lancer" does to Major Teats-Brown's "Bengal Lancer," Buchanan fans many find it a little puzzling.

Lord Tweedsmuir said that he was particularly pleased with the ingenuity with which Miss Madeleine Carroll has been introduced into what was originally a strictly bachelor story.

AROUND THE COURTS

WANTED BY BOTH PARTIES

Owing to a misunderstanding between Mr. M. A. da Silva and Mr. M. W. Lo, it was discovered that at the Summary Court yesterday morning that a person had been subpoenaed by both parties to give evidence.

Mr. Abbas Khan, President of the Hong Kong Indian Muslim Society, was the person concerned and the case was one in which Bansee Ram sued Alla Duiha for $250 as guarantor for money lent to a Chinese under a promissory note.

Mr. M. A. da Silva appeared for the plaintiff and Mr. M. W. Lo was for defendant.

At the previous hearing, Mr. Silva had mentioned that he had subpoenaed Mr. Abbas Khan, whom he thought was the Secretary of the Society, to come and give evidence to the effect that the Society had received a complaint from the plaintiff regarding the matter. At yesterday's hearing, Mr. Lo revealed that he had also subpoenaed Mr. Khan. This misunderstanding, he pointed out, was due to the fact he had subpoenaed the Secretary of the Society and as Mr. Khan was in fact the President he thought that that gentleman was not the one Mr. Silva wanted to call. He thought Mr. Silva wanted to call the Secretary.

RIDICULOUS POSITION
Mr. Silva, however, informed His Lordship that it was Mr. Abbas Khan whom he desired to call. He objected strongly to what he termed a ridiculous situation, as a person already subpoenaed by him to give evidence on his client's behalf had been interviewed by the defence, owing to a misunderstanding.

After Mr. Lo had explained the circumstances which led to the misunderstanding, Mr. Silva withdrew his objection and allowed Mr. Abbas Khan to be a witness for the defence.

Mr. Abbas Khan, in evidence, said plaintiff had written a complaint to the Muslim Society asking it to deal with the matter. A Committee meeting was held at which the plaintiff said the defendant and a Chinese came to him one day and asked him for a loan of $250. Plaintiff lent the money to the Chinese on behalf of the defendant. After the Chinese had paid interest for a few months, he disappeared, and plaintiff thereupon asked the defendant to repay the money. Plaintiff had admitted that the promissory note was signed by the Chinese and that he had no proof that defendant had stood as guarantor for the loan. Defendant was not present at the meeting.

After further evidence had been given, His Lordship gave judgment for defendant with costs.

RESISTING ARREST

Before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistrate's Court yesterday afternoon, Chan Sheung, alias Chan Ho-tai, 30, answered a charge of assaulting an Indian Sergeant, Nathe Khan, and resisting him in the execution of his duty.

Detective Sgt. Kinnear, for the prosecution, stated that on June 20, at about 1.10 p.m. the Indian Sergeant whilst on duty near Cadogan Street, Kennedy Town, saw defendant carrying a basket in which was some freshly cut wood. Defendant on hearing the Indian Sergeant laid down the basket and vanished into a pigsty. The Sergeant followed and after examining the basket went and caught the defendant who struggled and tore the constable's trousers. After a few minutes with the assistance of a P.W.D. foreman, the defendant was brought to the Police station where he was charged.

He made a statement saying "He struck me first so I seized him to prevent him from striking me."

Cheung Ngau, foreman of the P.W.D. Port Development Department then gave evidence from which it was gathered that when he arrived on the scene, after hearing a police whistle, he saw the Indian constable struggling on the ground with the defendant and assisted in having him bound. He did not go to the police station with the defendant.

Sergeant Nathe Khan then gave his evidence, from which it was gathered that the basket had been removed during the struggle, stating that both he and the defendant received cuts and abrasions.

His Worship amended the charge to one of resisting arrest and not of assault. Defendant who had had a previous conviction was fined $50 or 6 weeks' hard labour.

UNMUZZLED DOG ON BEACH

Appearing before Mr. MacLayden at the Central Magistrate's Court yesterday morning, Mr. M. Morris, of No. 3 Bungalow, Repulse Bay, was summoned for allowing a Foxhound pup without a muzzle to be on the beach on June 16 at 1 p.m.

Defendant admitted the offence, and said he muzzled his dogs every time they went on the beach, but they always returned without their muzzles, which were taken off by people who said it was cruel to muzzle the dogs so tightly. In this instance, the same thing happened. The pup was only five months old, and he had been keeping it until it was old enough to go to the kennels at Fanling. Since the issuance of the summons, the pup had been sent back to Fanling. It had been inoculated against rabies.

Defendant was fined $15.

Mr. K. S. Hoe, of Perfection Place, Taihang, was also summoned, for allowing his black and white mongrel dog to be abroad in a public thoroughfare without a muzzle or a lead, at 9.50 p.m. on June 11.

Defendant admitted the summons and was fined $5.

WEST POINT THEFTS

A series of thefts from residences in the West Point district during the past fortnight had a sequel before Mr. Schofield at the Central Magistrate's Court yesterday when two unemployed men, Yuen Kam, alias Yuen Tul, 22, and Yuen Wong, aged 23 years were charged.

Both pleaded guilty to stealing clothing and money from 8 Hok Sze Terrace and nine pieces of clothing, a fountain pen, a pencil and an alarm clock from Sanitary Inspector Drown, living at the Sanitary Inspectors' Quarters, Kennedy Town.

Yuen Kam also pleaded guilty to loitering at 13 Catchick Street, while Yuen Wong admitted a charge of returning from banishment.

Detective-Sergeant J. Shepherd stated that at 4 a.m. on June 24 the first defendant, Yuen Kam, was arrested by a detective on the stairway of 13 Catchick Street. He had entered the premises by climbing a drain pipe. Pawn tickets found in his possession led to the recovery of some of the property stolen. Yuen Wong was arrested at a stall where a feather suit case was also found and it contained four more pawn tickets. The clothing missing from the Sanitary Quarters included Sanitary Inspector Drown's tunic and Government overcoat.

Yuen Kam was sentenced to terms totalling six months, while Yuen Wong received a sentence of eleven months.

WIDOW GETS OFF LIGHTLY

At the instigation of the S.C.A. a woman, Kwok Sau-ying was summoned before Mr. Schofield yesterday for transferring or sub-letting her restaurant licence at 218, Hennessy Road to Chau Chi-lau without first obtaining permission for the right quarters. She was also summoned for failing to attach a stamp to a receipt which she issued.

Appearing for the defence Mr. M. K. Lo pleaded guilty and mentioned that the defendant was a widow.

Her husband had been employed for 30 years as a steward in the Navy and died in December last year. She collected capital of $1,500 and set up business as a Chinese restaurant. She found her money was exhausted and she got Chau Chi-lai to take over the business for her on a daily basis so that as soon as she could raise enough money she would resume business. She was now able to resume business in four days' time. He asked his Worship to deal as leniently as possible with the defendant, and if His Worship saw fit, not to impose a fine.

Inspector K. W. Andrew: I am instructed by the S.C.A. to ask for a small fine. No financial loss has been sustained by the Government owing to the transaction.

The Magistrate adjourned the summons for one week to allow the defendant to resume business, and administered a caution on the second summons.

Sentence of 9 months' hard labour was passed on Chan Shing by Mr. Schofield at the Central Police Court yesterday for a breach of the deportation order. Detective-Sergeant Shepherd stated the man was arrested on information.

STEALING LETTERS

Charges of stealing letters from the second floors of Nos. 223 and 231, Lai-chikok Road, were preferred against Chan Chung, 45, unemployed, before Mr. Wynne-Jones at Kowloon Magistrate's Court yesterday.

Inspector Ellis, prosecuting, stated that about 1.30 p.m. on Tuesday a detective saw defendant come down the stairway of No. 223 Lai-chikok Road with a letter in his hand, so he followed the man. Defendant went up to the second floor of No. 231 and was seen to put his hand into the letter box. When he saw the detective, defendant attempted to tear up the first letter. The first letter had been stolen from the first address where defendant lived.

It was alleged by defendant that he had taken the second letter to look at.

Defendant was sentenced to three months' hard labour on each charge.

When he appeared before Mr. Wynne-Jones yesterday on the charge of having possession of 225 poppy tickets, Ho Ying was ordered to pay a fine of $50 or one month's hard labour. Defendant was arrested in Cooke Street with the tickets in his possession.

For committing a breach of the regulations at Blake Pier by placing his feet on a bench, and refusing to obey the order of an Indian constable to put them down, Ho Fung, aged 23, unemployed, was bound over by Mr. MacLayden at the Central Magistrate's Court yesterday. Sub-Inspector Tyler, prosecuting, stated that the prosecution was brought owing to people on the pier becoming more and more insolent everyday, and causing great annoyance to the constable on duty, who had difficulty in controlling them.

A charge of stealing a cat was brought against Tam Ki, aged 33, unemployed, of 4, Bridges Street, when he appeared before Mr. MacLayden at the Central Magistrate's Court yesterday. Detective Sergeant Baldwin said the man was seen by a detective picking the cat up and placing it into a bag and attempting to catch another cat in the early hours of the morning. The complainant, Chan Kam, a widow, of 25, Bridges Street, had said she had already lost three cats. Defendant denied stealing, saying he picked the cat up, pitying its condition, and thinking it was homeless. He was fined $5, or fifteen days imprisonment, and the cat was restored to its owner.

SERIOUS ALLEGATIONS AGAINST CHINESE

Charges Of Arson Preferred

Mr. P. H. Sin continued his cross examination of Ho Tim, a witness in the case being heard before Mr. E. I. Wynne-Jones at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court yesterday afternoon, in which Ng Yuen Chow is charged with the alleged arson of the Sam Man Towel Manufacturing Company and Ng King Chiu, a partner of the firm, is charged with the alleged procuration of the crime.

Mr. J. A. Fraser, the Assistant Attorney General is appearing for the prosecution.

In answer to Mr. Sin, witness said that his estimate given at the previous hearing ($1,300) did not include the machinery but was only based on the amount of fabric and yarn stored in the factory. He was aware that Lai Yuk Kai had made the machinery, but he did not know how much money was paid for it.

He agreed that he was the next highest paid employee after the manager, but last year when they had employed an accountant he came after the latter. He also had heard that the manager, Tang Kam Kwong held shares to the value of $2,000.

The second defendant, witness said, lived with his family at 102 Fuk Wah Street, near the factory. He himself, (witness) resided at 88 Wing Fuk Street.

Replying to Mr. Sin, witness said that he had spent last night in the Yau-mah Police Station.

HELD ON WARRANT

Mr. Fraser interposed and informed the Court that since May 27 witness was being held at the station on a warrant.

Remanded from Tuesday, Ng Sze, aged 41, ricksha coolie, appeared before Mr. MacLayden at the Central Magistrate's Court yesterday, and was discharged on a count of having snatched a pocket book from the person of E. J. Maloney, an American seaman, at 11.30 p.m. on Monday. Mr. M. K. Lo appeared for accused, and said that as a result of enquiries, no witnesses were found of the alleged incident outside the Hotel Cecil. Detective Sergeant Gu'd, for the prosecution, also stated that he could not find witnesses. Defendant was accordingly discharged owing to lack of evidence.

Two unemployed men, Chan Yiu, aged 23, and Chan Ngau, aged 33, appeared before Mr. MacLayden at the Central Magistrate's Court yesterday on remand, on charges of possession of 48 counterfeit ten-cent pieces respectively. A further charge of returning from banishment was preferred against each defendant.

Witness in reply to the Magistrate said that this was correct but that he did not know that he was being detained on a warrant. Questioned further he admitted that the warrant was explained to him at Shamshui, a few days after the fire.

He had seen and conversed with Lai Ho and Chui Wai Nam (two other witness for the Crown) every day although he was well aware that they would be called to give evidence.

Asked whether he had discussed the case with them, witness replied in the negative, adding that the Police would not allow any such procedure.

Mr. Fraser asked witness, in an attempt to clear any impression counsel might have caused with his cross examination, whether he and his friends (Lai Ho and Chui Wai Nam) had made up a story to present to the Court, to which witness replied emphatically "The evidence is not a made up story."

APPEAL FOR MORE SUPPORT

For Locally Brewed Beer

Various contributory factors including the unfavourable rate of exchange settled for the machinery, unfair competition and last but not least the interest on overdraft which claimed all but $29,317.54 out of the year's loss of $137,992.89 was reported the third ordinary yearly meeting of the Hong Kong Brewers and Distillers, Limited held yesterday at the registered offices of the Company which was presided over by Mr. Stanley H. Dodwell.

Supporting the chairman were: Hon. Sir William Shenton, (director), Mr. J. H. Ruttenjee (managing director), Mrs. E. M. Barrett (Secretary) and the following shareholders: Messrs. D. H. Blake, V. I. Treskin, C. Champkin and M. A. Johnson.

Addressing the meeting the chairman said:—

Gentlemen—Before dealing with the report and accounts I should like to express the Board's regret, which I am sure that you will all share, at the death of Mr. J. P. Warren, who up to the time of his departure from the Colony in May last year, had been our Chairman since the Company's inception. His sound judgment, resourcefulness and practical advice proved invaluable in surmounting the many difficulties which arose in the earlier stage of our existence. His mantle descended upon me and I regret to say that instead of diminishing, our difficulties have increased as is unhappily only too well evidenced by the heavy loss of $137,992.89, which I regret to say is shown on the year's working. Of this amount interest charges on our Bank overdraft and depreciation account for all but $29,317.54.

Exchange A Big Factor

The fortunes, or rather the misfortunes, of our Company, present a striking example of the grievous harm which industry and commerce in this Colony have suffered, firstly from the determination of practically every nation in the world to live within itself and shut out its neighbours' products by means of insurmountable tariff walls, and secondly by the silver policy of the United States, which has raised our exchange to an entirely artificial and abnormally high level and one undreamed of when the Brewery project was initiated. At that time Exchange was in the neighbourhood of 1/8d. When the machinery was contracted for in sterling, exchange was still about the same level, but it was decided—and I maintain the decision was the proper one to take that, the wisest course would be to leave the fixing of the exchange as long as possible in order to minimize the risk of fluctuation between the time payment was made for the plant and the time operations commenced.

Unfortunately no sooner had decision been made than the silver market and exchange took a violent downward course. People began to talk of a sixpenny dollar with the result that the payment for the plant was covered at 1 1/2d. almost the lowest rate on record, for soon after came England's abandonment of the Gold Standard, which automatically raised the rate to 1/3d. When we were ready to commence marketing our beer locally the rate had risen to 1/4, and to-day, thanks to America it is nearly two and one half times higher than the rate at which we paid for the plant. Export is now quite out of the question and the cheaper dollar price of all imported beer has of course necessitated a big reduction in our prices.

Nobody could have foreseen these violent fluctuations, which were entirely due to outside influences and world economic conditions.

No Preference

When I last addressed you we had some hope of the Government according some measure of preference to the Brewery. So far from achieving any success in this direction, we were at one time, thanks to exchange, actually paying more duty than imported beer. This anomaly has been adjusted, but only to the extent we now pay the same duty as that paid by all importers of beer and there seems little prospect of the Government according us any preference.

If preference is denied us on the ground that I suspect it is, namely that it is considered undesirable at home that British Colonies should foster industries which will interfere with the export trade of the home manufacturer, it is surely strange that the Government of the Straits Settlements should grant preference to their Breweries. The local Straits product only pays 7/10ths of the duty on imported British Beer, which in its turn pays slightly less than imported foreign beers. This preference undoubtedly assists the Straits breweries in securing a footing in the Hong Kong market.

Should the Hong Kong Government's attitude be based on the belief that a brewery in Hong Kong is an uneconomic proposition because we can buy British Beer just as cheaply, the argument only holds while exchange is at a high level. Had exchange remained anywhere near the level it was when the Brewery project was started, we could have supplied the Colony with very much cheaper beer than that imported from anywhere else except perhaps Japan.

Great Reduction

Whatever the Government's reasons may be, I regret that it now seems clear that the only quarter from which we can hope for preference is from the Public of the Colony. I am not a believer in supporting Home Industries at all costs, but in this case it seems to me that special circumstances apply. To use a vulgar expression the Colony is 'getting it in the neck' from almost every quarter. She is too small to sit back and in consequence her citizens and her industries, including the Brewery, are passing through what can only be described as very critical times—times, indeed, in which I feel that we should all stand together. I therefore confidently appeal to the Public for increased support. This can be given at no extra cost at all, for during this year we have made two reductions in our prices. These now work out, after allowing for returned empty bottles, at $14.06 per case of 72 pints, and $15.16 per case of 48 quarts. For beer of first quality brewed from the finest malt and hops, it must I think be admitted that these prices are low, when it is remembered that they include duty. Appreciating as I do the sporting instincts of the Hong Kong Public, I refuse to believe that we shall appeal to them in vain.

NEW TRIAL ASKED

During the period under review we unfortunately had a good deal of trouble by reason of some of our beer going cloudy. It is extremely difficult to prevent non-chemically treated beer, becoming hazy in a humid tropical climate. Every precaution was taken with our Pasteurising Plant to obviate this possibility, but unfortunately it failed us. This defect, however, has now been remedied and acting on the advice of the leading Brewing Research Institutions, we are satisfied that the difficulty has been effectively overcome and that there is now no better, purer beer of its kind brewed in the Far East. We therefore ask all who have not yet sampled our beer, as well as those customers who sampled it while we were experiencing the trouble with cloudiness, to give it a trial now and pass judgment afresh on it.

Our beer can now be obtained on draught at the principal clubs, hotels and restaurants in the Colony, and the demand for it has been most satisfactory.

Anyone who desires to inspect the Brewery at Sham Tseng is cordially invited to do so, and I am sure that a visit will impress everybody that its equipment is up to date, and that by cleanliness of the premises, plant and staff, every effort is made to turn out a first class product.

Turning to the accounts, the increase in the overdraft during 1934 is explained by the fact that the items Sundry Creditors and Bills payable have been reduced by $125,447.25, while the value of Stocks has increased by $105,106.93. Further, during 1934 an additional 14 aluminium maturing and fermenting tanks were installed, of a capacity of 2,200 gallons each, a new bottle washing room with new machinery was provided and a new concrete storage shed.

MOTOR LICENCES

Police Making New Arrangements

Owners of motor vehicles and drivers will be pleased to learn that additional facilities are being arranged by the Accounts Office of the Hong Kong Police in the renewal of their licences which is due on July 2.

Instead of as in former years, when one has to wait for a considerable time, it is now allowed to send licences for renewal through the post or by chit book, enclosing the amount required which should be paid by crossed cheques. These will receive the same attention as a personal call at the office.

There is certain to be a big rush and in order to avoid congestion special stands are being made in the compound of the office to cope with the situation.

This deviation will afford the many owners and drivers the chance of avoiding undue delay and also the necessity of attending in person.

$54,685.61 is a heavy item, especially for new reinforced concrete buildings and machinery and plant of this type which has a very long normal life. The figure is high because it is based on the expenditure on buildings when building costs were considerably greater than they are at present and on the dollar cost of the machinery and plant at exchange of 11/2d.

MORE ECONOMY

Considerable economy was effected last year, but, in view of the Auditors' Report, it has been decided that more must be done in this direction as soon as possible. Among the economies now to be made, there is a reduction on account of rent of offices, as our offices are being removed from Duddell Street to the Brewery at Sham Tseng.

The interest on our overdraft is a heavy annual commitment and it must be our first concern to endeavour to relieve ourselves of a substantial portion of this obligation. Whether this is possible until trading conditions improve, I very much doubt. Our Managing Director, Mr. J. H. Ruttenjee, who is you know is by far the largest shareholder, has rendered the Company invaluable help. His optimism and faith in the future of the Brewery have led him to place his resources at the Company's disposal to an extent which I feel sure few shareholders realise. Now, however, the future prospects of the Company have been so changed by the conditions have already referred to, that some form of reconstruction in the near future will be essential and your Directors propose shortly to invite shareholders to a private meeting to discuss what can be done.

Your Directors have had a very busy year, but in view of the unfavourable result of the year's working they have agreed to forego three-fourths of their fees, which reduces the charge under this head from $6,000 to $2,000. The sum of $5,000 has been erroneously shown in the accounts under this heading.

Your Directors would like to place on record their regret at the death of Mr. J. D. Lloyd, Superintendent of Imports and Exports. We always found him ready to assist us in every way possible to meet the many difficulties which were encountered, especially during our first year, and the present smooth working of our relations with the Imports & Exports Department, is in no small degree due to the adoption of the system initiated by him and carried on by his successor Mr. Hamilton.

We should also like to express our appreciation of the consideration and assistance which we have at all times received from the staff of the Imports and Exports Department.

Finally I take this opportunity of thanking our Office and Brewery Staff for their whole-hearted support and co-operation during the past year in the difficulties we have had to contend with.

The accounts and report was duly seconded by Mr. D. H. Blake and carried unanimously.

OTHER BUSINESS

Proposed by Mr. V. I. Treskin and seconded by Mr. C. Champkin, Sir Ely Kadoorie was re-elected director for the ensuing year. The re-election of Messrs. Linstead and Davis as Auditors was confirmed on the motion of Mr. M. A. Johnson seconded by Sir William Shenton.

THE LIDO

To Be Opened Lady Southern

The community in general and swimming enthusiasts in particular will be interested to learn that the Repulse Bay Lido, Hong Kong's show bathing resort, will be opened at 6.30 p.m. on Friday, July 12. Lady Southern, O.B.E., wife of His Excellency the Officer Administering the Government, has kindly consented to perform the opening ceremony.

The Lido building, which is situated at the eastern end of Repulse Bay, has been designed on the lines of the modern Continental style bathing establishments. Especially built for the tropics, it embodies all the latest scientific developments in lay-out and construction.

There are several novel features, the most notable departure from the conventional style bathing houses being the self-contained family compartments, each with a separate entrance and a private verandah. The entire ground floor is occupied with these compartments, each consisting of two dressing rooms with closets and a shower bath attached, constructed in such a way as to afford complete privacy.

SOME FEATURES

In addition to the private family compartments, there are a large number of cabins similar to the type found in the popular summer resorts all over the world. Some of these will be reserved for men, some will be set apart for ladies, and a portion will be allotted to families.

No effort has been spared to cater for the requirements of both the bathing and visiting public. A covered tea lounge, a bar and a snack counter, complete with an electric kitchen service and refrigerator, will be in operation on the first floor, with a direct entrance from the road, where light meals, refreshments and drinks will be served.

OPEN AIR DANCE FLOOR

On the top of the building there is a modern and tastefully decorated open-air dance floor, with terrazzo tables and large coloured umbrellas.

The present Lido is only part of an extensive scheme which will provide Hong Kong with a magnificent amusement centre such as may be seen in Europe and America. The original plan calls for another building of equal size, a large swimming pool, as well as tennis, miniature golf and other sports grounds in the midst of elaborately designed gardens and artistic floral effects.

SCALE OF CHARGES

The rates to be charged for use of accommodation at the Lido are: Private Bathing Cabins.—By the month, $75; if taken by the year, $50 per month.

Dressing Booths.—$1 per day for use of by one or two Room.—50 cents per head per day. Service men in uniform, 30 cents per head per day.

ANOTHER CRUISER ARRIVES

Another Northern Chinese cruiser, the Yungshui arrived here from Shanghai yesterday and anchored in Junk Bay.

Later, the Northern cruisers Haiyung and Haichan, which left Junk Bay on Tuesday and went to an anchorage off Waglan, returned to their former mooring, joining the Yungshui.

The Ning Hai, with Admiral Chen on board, is still in port, as also is the training ship Tung Chi and the two cruisers which escaped from Canton. No adjustment of the differences between these two latter and the Northern ships has yet been reached.

PEACE POSTER COMPETITION

Local school children and members of the public will be given an opportunity to show their originality of thought and their knowledge of League of Nations ideals in a Peace Poster Competition initiated by the local Society of the League.

Sir William Shenton, Mr. M. E. Lo, Lady Pollock, and Mr. A. N. Macdonald have been named as adjudicators of the contest, which is in two sections, one open to all and one confined to students of

CHARGES OF ARSON

As regards the position, second defendant held in the company, witness said the former had been paid wages although he did not do any work.

Mr. Fraser: "Was there any name attached to the post?" Difficulty was experienced to give an exact interpretation to this question, and after some discussion the question was again put to defendant in another form. Mr. Sin rose in objection saying that witness had already given as good enough description of his client's position, but the Magistrate disagreed with this. He said that he had heard of similar positions held by directors who did no work, drew a salary and had a position! This caused amazement in the Court, the Magistrate adding that he in any case "had never got a job like that!"

Continuing, witness said that Tam Kam Kwong had appointed second defendant as an assistant manager, and as such, witness had taken and carried out orders from him.

After Tam went to Canton, second defendant was the only partner in the firm that he knew.

Witness substantiated his evidence given previously, that he suspected second defendant's intentions on May 23, after he had been invited to go out after 5 o'clock.

In answer to the Magistrate, witness said that if he had not been asked to go out, he would have slept in the factory, realising as he did the state of affairs that existed. He in fact, had it in mind to ask the defendant not to set fire to the place.

THE BOOKS

Describing the working of the firm, witness said that he was not permitted to see the books relating to the partnership, but has access to the everyday working books. Tam kept the books which were locked up everyday in a box. This box was kept on the desk situated on the ground floor. The last time that he saw the books was on the May 23, (a day before the fire) but he could not say who took them out of the box. He first saw the books in question at noon. He, himself, left the factory at 9 p.m.

Replying to a further question, witness said that he did not know who had the key of the box.

Asked if he had any question to put to the witness, first defendant said that the books were never locked up, but witness disagreed with this assertion.

The case was then adjourned until Wednesday next, July 3 at 2.30 p.m.

THE PRINCESS ROYAL

The "Evening Standard" learns that an operation for the treatment of the thyroid gland was successfully performed on the Princess Royal.

The operation took place in a West End nursing home.

Lord Dawson of Penn, the King's physician, who is in charge of the case, was present.

A bulletin issued stated that the Princess Royal had for some time been suffering from an exophthalmic goitre.

"Although the health of her Royal Highness has improved under medical treatment," this bulletin stated, "complete cure has not been effected thereby. It has, therefore, been decided to treat the thyroid gland by operation."

This bulletin was signed by Dr. L. F. R. Knuthsen, Sir Thomas Dunhill and Lord Dawson of Penn.

Exophthalmic goitre's most striking symptoms are an enlarged thyroid gland, rapid action of the heart and palpitation.

local schools. There is no entrance fee.

Sir Robert Ho Tung has donated a cup called the Ho Tung Peace Cup for the competition and six prizes in all are offered.

Ideas which are intended to suggest the spirit of the posters are: "Peace alone brings plenty" inscribed on a drawing of a sheaf of wheat; "Civilisation is a progress from war to law" on a drawing of Justice holding the scale between two litigants, or a court of law sitting.

All posters are to be sent to Miss Baxter, at Messrs. Lane Crawford, Ltd., on or before October 15, and the prize-giving will take place in the Cathedral Hall on November 6.

HONG KONG, JUNE 27, 1935.

UNITED NATION

It was only about the time when the Disarmament Conference was showing the first signs of its final disruption that public opinion in Britain was acutely divided on the subject of foreign policy. So far as the aims of the British policy was concerned, there was, and still remains no sort of dispute, for the whole country was united in upholding the cause of peace with the result that neither party to the controversy seriously suggested that their opponents were not honestly pursuing this objective according to their lights. The dispute turned not on the end but on the means; it raged in the House of Commons, in the Press, on the political platforms, and its repercussions were more than once noticeable in the by-elections. To-day there is virtually no dispute. In a recent Parliamentary debate fewer discordant notes were struck than have been heard for a long time past, and the Prime Minister was generally acknowledged to be repeating the sober truth when he declared that "whatever Government was in office during the past eighteen months would have had to do what we did." There is evidence that this is at last beginning to become clear even to him that runs, and it is in no spirit of partisanship that we find support for this view in the result of the West Edinburgh by-election. At the present crisis in international affairs, when the action of the United Kingdom is likely to exert a decisive influence on the future course of events in Europe, it is of paramount importance that Britain should be able to speak with one voice.

The origin of this sudden unanimity of British opinion is not far to seek. What was previously obscure has been made abundantly plain by the recent behaviour of Germany. The people of this country have been more profoundly shocked than Herr Hitler as yet appears to realise by the series of challenges which his Government had thought fit to throw out to ourselves and to the rest of the European community of nations. Germany had and still has a case, on its own merits impregnable, for release from the humiliations of the Peace Treaty, a case so powerfully brought home to the minds of the British people by the late Herr Stresemann that even two years of Nazi amok-running had failed to undermine it. By her defiant usurpation of military superiority and by her arrogant contempt for her Treaty obligations she has forfeited her every claim upon the generous sympathy of our nation. In presuming too far she has drawn Englishmen of all parties together in a united determination to ensure peace by the only means which her policy leaves open to us.

THE RUNAWAY CRUISERS

Order To Leave The Colony Denied

At a late hour last night rumours were current in town that the rebel cruisers Hai Chi and Hai Shen were to leave Hong Kong waters within twenty-four hours by the British authorities.

"Enquiries made on board the Ning Hai elicited the fact that if any such warning was given they would have been communicated with by the authorities. They denied that such had been the case and stated that the relations existing between them (i.e. the rebels and Ning Hai) were anything better than the last few days."

Earlier Information

The latest information obtained regarding the Chinese naval tangle yesterday was to the effect that Lt. Comdr. Wu Chi Foo of the cruiser Hai Shen called on board the Ning Hai and had a long conversation with the authorities on board.

It is stated that a better understanding had been arrived at regarding the present situation and hope is being held out that there is every prospect of an early and amicable settlement of the whole affair.

The position as vouchsafed to us by an authority is that it is better than the previous two days and cordial relations have once again been established.

With regard to the presence of the Ying Shui in the Colony, we were given to understand by the same source that she called in here for the sake of coaling and getting more provisions for her needs and will in all probability be leaving port within the next twenty-four hours.

CANTON NEWS ITEMS

Currency Problem

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, June 26.
Some excitement is created here to-day by the rise of Hong Kong currency to 50.1 Canton cents for a Hong Kong dollar. This is about the highest rate for all time. People are wondering why the premium has gone so high, when the political situation is quiet, at least outwardly.

Speculators are partly responsible in raising the premium of Hong Kong dollars, but speculation alone can not keep up an artificial rate for over a week. There is good demand for these notes by government offices and merchants, and this is believed to be the main reason for the continuous rise of the colonial dollar. Many people deposit Hong Kong money with local banks and change them into local currency. They expect to make profit, when the premium drops in the next few days.

No Government Changes

Persistent rumours that Chairman Lam Wan Koy, Mayor Liu Chi Wen and other high civilian officials will resign are incorrect. At the meeting of the South-west Political Council on Tuesday, no resignation was considered. Local leaders are apparently united in arousing the masses to external dangers confronting the country.

The only government change is the re-adoption of the old system for the Canton Flotilla. Admiral Chen Tai Tong relinquishes his naval command in favour of Rear-Admiral Chang Chi Ying, who is again promoted to be Senior Naval Officer of the Canton Flotilla. Rear-Admiral Li Hing Man, head of the Whampoa Military Academy, is appointed Second-in-Command. Captain Lai Chu Liu will be the Chief-of-Staff. This reorganization will take effect on July 1.

Business Tax Reform

Canton merchants have petitioned to the Provincial Department of Finance for a reform of the business tax, so that no fine may be imposed on them under flimsy pretexts. Six proposals are submitted for reform so as to reduce the burden and annoyance of the tax payers.

The business men pointed out that in the event of the change of street number or appointment of new managers, the firm should be spared the trouble of filing new

TO DEAL WITH AGGRESSION

Suggestions From Canton

Canton, June 26.
Pointing out that Japanese domination of North China is leading to the perdition of the country, Dr. Woo Kang, Litt. D. Dean of the College of Arts of National Sun Yat-sen University, suggested in an interview to-day four points in saving the country.

"The entire military strength of the nation should be mobilized against aggression," Professor Woo continued. "All troops should be organized into national defence army corps to the extent of one hundred corps. There must be immediate cessation of anti-Communist campaign, so that all the national forces may be used against the invaders."

"Secondly, in the event of a declaration of war, China should follow the example of France in forming a National Defence Government with the responsibility of directing military affairs, foreign relations and internal administration. Also the government assumes the duty of protecting the country and people."

"Thirdly, educational programme must lay emphasis on nationalist thought and sentiment and historical culture with the object of developing an intensely patriotic and protective spirit towards the country. There will be profound studies of modern scientific knowledge for the purpose of cultural advancement."

"Lastly, China's agriculture, commerce and industry should be aided by modern technical and scientific methods. The economic conditions of the people are to be enriched by China's plentiful and rich resources. Then there shall be peremptory orders to the nation to use only native goods and to prohibit the buying of foreign goods. I believe these are fundamental measures in warding off aggression."

Dean Woo deplored the non-resistance policy, and cited the examples of the patriotic Chinese defenders in history who turned out the foreign invaders. An authority on history and philosophy, Dr. Woo is well known in Europe because of his scholastic works and studies at the University of Paris.

ONE YEAR IN SINKIANG

"A Ray Of Hope"

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright))

Sian, June 17.

With the exception of the monetary situation which is still in a complicated state, considerable progress has been made in political, social, and economic planning for the future development of Sinkiang, according to Mr. Hsu Ke-Wu, special correspondent of the Sian Daily Press, who returned here yesterday after spending year in that province.

Mr. Hsu, accompanied by Mr. Chen Keng-Ya, a staff writer of the Shun Pao, Shanghai, left Sian for Sinkiang last May, but Mr. Chen returned before reaching Thina. Mr. Hsu, however, continued the journey and spent four months at Thina.

There distinctly is a ray of hope in the political horizon in Sinkiang, Mr. Hsu stated, because the civil and military authorities there are co-operating conscientiously with the people in working for stability, peace, and progress.

Concrete plans have been mapped out for economic development and reconstruction in the province, Mr. Hsu declared, and to relieve the financial burden of the people in accordance with instructions from the Central Government, the provincial government there has centralized its taxation organs.

particulars. Warehouses connected with firms should be exempted from payment of business tax when the firms are paying it. The merchants also ask for payment of the tax in local currency instead of national currency which means an addition of 30 per cent premium.

NARROW VICTORY FOR MRS. MOODY

Within Two Points Of Defeat

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 7.
Engaged at Weybridge yesterday in her first serious match since her retirement from championship lawn tennis nearly two years ago, Mrs. Moody was within two points of defeat by Miss Mary Hardwick, who played the best game of her short career, writes a correspondent. The score in favour of the American was 4-6, 7-5, 6-3.

With rain falling at intervals and the turf so slippery that both competitors wore socks over their shoes, conditions were against great lawn tennis. In spite of this, the play reached a high standard, and if one fact was established beyond dispute it was that Miss Hardwick is now in Mrs. Moody's class and has the stroke equipment to meet any opponent in the world on level terms.

It was a trying ordeal for the ex-champion. The wet surface did not assist her floating drives; she was obviously short of stern competitive practice; she was meeting a young and unknown opponent, whose stroke execution was as fluent as her own, and who only betrayed a lack of complete assurance when it came to serving at a critical point.

TEN DOUBLE FAULTS

In all Miss Hardwick served 10 double faults. Without these lapses—and they cost her at least two vital games in the palpitating second set—Mrs. Moody would, on her form of yesterday, almost certainly have passed out of the tournament. It says much for the English girl's consistency fine driving that in spite of her double faults she came so close to victory.

The American started by winning the opening game on her service—a sliced stroke lacking the length and strength of her former delivery. Miss Hardwick then took rare judgment and skill and finding a definite weakness in her opponent's forehand on the run. Both girls were keeping a superb length, and their back-hand driving bouts were a joy to watch.

Mrs. Moody had started in ordinary footwear. Apologising for the delay, she went to a chair, and pulled heavy socks over her shoes. The break unseated Miss Hardwick and she lost the next three games, only to regain her confidence and aim in the next two, and to win them both to give her the set.

She was delightfully accurate and circumspect, passing Mrs. Moody like a knife if she ventured in, or maintaining a ground stroke rally until she could play the half court ball down the American's forehand line.

FIRST SERVICE MISTAKE

Having started so auspiciously—and this was only the third set Mrs. Moody had lost in England in eight years—Miss Hardwick did better and won the first game against her opponent's service in the second set. Now came her first service blunder. When within a point of leading two-love Miss Hardwick served a double fault, and lost the game on another double fault after deuce.

It was now Mrs. Moody's turn to miss chances. She over-drove badly in the third game to lose it. The long fifth was gallantly carried by Miss Hardwick who led 3-2. A 4-2 lead might have come if another double fault had not intervened.

In the critical seventh game Miss Hardwick was 15-40 on Mrs. Moody's service. With her opponent moving forward slowly on the damp turf a drop shot was the winning coup. Miss Hardwick did not try it, and Mrs. Moody became 4-3. Now Miss Hardwick served her best game to win it conclusively to love. Her chance looked rosy when Mrs. Moody served a double fault to concede the ninth game.

VITAL TENTH GAME

Five-four to Miss Hardwick and 30—all. It was a tense moment for players and spectators alike. The rallies had been splendid and full of good shots. Alas! another double fault from the leader—the set was squared at 5—all. The 11th was a long game well fought, but it went at last to the American, and she took the 12th easily.

For the first seven games in the final set the fight was level. More rain came, but the players made light of it. The long seventh game was the turning point. Miss Hardwick had vantage twice; on losing it she seemed to Mrs. Moody, probably visualising victory for the first time, put on pressure. The eighth game was well contested, and in the ninth and last the American was in command of the court.

To-day, in the semi-final, Mrs. Moody will meet Miss Yorke, who, in spite of double faults, beat Miss Dickin with the loss of only five games. Mrs. Pittman and Mrs. Whittingstall are the other semi-finalists. Mrs. Whittingstall was within a point of losing the first set to Mrs. Shepherd-Barron, and celebrated her escape by taking a string of games in the second set.

J. Lysaght's chop on a wet surface paralysed Muir, the South African, and E. R. Ivory, the holder, was another semi-finalist in the men's event.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

The Hong Kong dollar declined a tramping yesterday to 2s. 3d. On opening, the business rate was 2s. 2d. sellers and 2s. 3d. buyers. Later, the market steadied up, due to Chinese speculators selling, the rates advancing to 2s. 3d. sellers and 2s. 3d. buyers. In London, silver prices declined 7/10ths on Tuesday. China banks bought and sold, while India sold and America bought. The market was uncertain. Later, the dollar recovered to 2s. 3d.

The Little Sisters of the Poor, Home for the Aged, wish to thank His Excellency and Lady Southern for their kindness in sending them a cheque for $50, through Mr. Te. Ka Po.

Miss Turbitt, of the Diocesan Girls' School, has reported to the police the loss of $30 from her room. She believes a thief climbed over the wall, came up the stairs and entered through an open door.

A suicide by Lysol poisoning occurred at 9 o'clock yesterday morning when a single woman, Yeung Wai Kee, of 330 Castle Peak Road, second floor, died shortly after admission to the Kowloon Hospital. In her jacket pocket was found a letter in which she disclosed her intention of ending her life.

Many people availed themselves of the opportunity of putting questions to Mr. C. P. Seckland at the Cathedral Hall yesterday on the various aspects regarding "Co-operative Movement and Societies" everywhere. Many topics were discussed including one concerning the New Territories. Mr. Strickland answered all the questions to the satisfaction of those present and at the conclusion Bishop Hall thanked Mr. Strickland for the time he had spent with the gathering that afternoon.

NO MORE TAX COMMITTEE

Ministry Rejects Request

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright))

Nanking, June 18.

The request of the National Associated Chamber of Commerce for the restoration of the Stamp Tax Examination Committee to deal cases involving violation of the Stamp Tax regulation, is rejected by the Ministry of Finance.

In justifying its decision, the Ministry gave the following reasons: (1) Unjust decisions were often rendered in the past by the various Branch Stamp Tax Bureaux in adjudicating cases of evasion of the Stamp Tax. Cases of injustice, however, continued even with the establishment of the Stamp Tax Examination Committee, which was often biased in its decisions.

(2) In the interests of justice, the Ministry has ordered, after the taking-over of Stamp Tax sales by the post office, that cases of violation of the Stamp Tax regulations, detected by the local authorities, be turned over to the competent judicial organs for settlement.

(3) Judicial proceedings in such cases are of a simple nature, so that no inconvenience will be caused to merchants. (4) Moreover, the former Stamp Tax Examination Committee was composed of representatives of the Stamp Tax organs. Since the latter have been abolished, the restoration of the Committee is out of the question.

VEERING AGAINST THE PRESIDENT

Faint Hope Of Success In Tax Proposals

Washington, June 26.

The fight through Congress of the new tax proposals before Sunday's deadline as applying to the nuisance taxes appeared to be veering against President Roosevelt as the result of growing opposition of some of the leaders in the House of Representatives.

The Senate leaders held out only faint hope of a successful outcome in the efforts to gain congressional approval of the taxes before the deadline, but decided to adhere to plans even if it should result in temporary lapse of nuisance taxes and consequent loss of $1,355,000 in daily revenue.

Reuter.

Note: The tentative tax rates on new inheritance taxes, under $300,000 would be nil. On inheritances of $300,000 to $500,000 it would be four per cent, and thereafter a graduated scale rising from seven per cent, on $500,000 to ten per cent, on $750,000, 40 per cent, on $1,000,000 and 75 per cent, on $2,000,000 and over. Gift tax rates would be three-fourths of the foregoing.

HOUSE THREATS

Washington, June 25.

Resentment in the House of Representatives, threats of open revolt in the Senate and a hint of filibustering tactics to come, have brought the Administration leaders to pause in their plans for rushing through President Roosevelt's "soak-the-rich" tax programme.

President Roosevelt was going to attempt to push this legislation through Congress before Saturday night's session was concluded.

Fearful that hasty action might result in the defeat of the measure in the Finance Committee, leaders are considering the advisability of abandoning their intention of adding new taxes to the Emergency Tax Bill. Instead, they may attempt the passage of a separate bill later.

In spite of hints that President Roosevelt might veto the Holding Company Bill unless it contained the "abolition clause," the House Rules Committee has declined to permit a roll call vote on this clause.

Meanwhile, complete agreement has been reached by the conferees of both Houses on the Wagner Industrial Dispute Bill, which now returns to both Houses for approval of the Conference report.

THREE WAY TAX

Senator Harrison, Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, states that the new three-way tax programme will raise $340,000,000 through inheritance and gift levies, higher taxes on big incomes and the graduated corporation tax. This would be added to the pending Bill, extending half a billion dollars in emergency taxes.

Senator Harrison said the new inheritance tax would begin on net inheritances of about $300,000 under the tentative plan mapped out by experts, while the tax on incomes of over a million dollars at present 59 per cent, would be raised on a graduated scale running from 60 per cent, to about 80 per cent, for incomes above ten millions.

The corporation tax would run from 10 per cent, on the minimum limits to 17.5 per cent, on net profits exceeding $20,000,000. Reuter.

BRITISH OPEN GOLF TITLE

Championship Play Begins

London, June 26.

Muirfield is white with mist and the turf heavy with dew, but golfing conditions are good. The championship proper in which there are now 109 competitors, of whom the leading 59 and those tying for sixtieth place, will play in the final over thirty six holes, but the scores of the first thirty six will also count in the championship.

The leaders at 2 p.m. were Henry Cotton 33 and 35-70, two strokes better than the course record, Kenyon of West Lancashire 70, Lacey (Berkshire) and Branch (Hampshire) 71, Alliss, Bergadd and Green, 72.

McRuvie, Scottish Amateur went round in 70 which was an amateur record, equalling Cotton's feat, while Padgham also had a score of 70, Mahon 71, McLean 77, Brews 79, Macdonald Smith, 69, and Lawson Little 75.

Kirkwood of America tore up his card at the thirteenth hole after taking 43 to reach the turn. Reuter.

London, June 26.

In the second round of the Wimbledon tennis championships, Gene Mako (America) beat Yamagishi (Japan) 2-6, 2-6, 6-2, 8-1, 6-2.

The Japanese seemed a certain winner with more confidence in his strokes and harder driving during two and a half sets, after which Gene Mako regained confidence and touch.

Yamagishi reserved his energy for the fourth set but he was unable to cope with the American's service with which he frequently won aces. The Japanese rashly attempted to storm the net and occasionally accomplished a brilliant smash, but the American's long reach retrieved almost everything. Reuter.

ANGLO-GERMAN AGREEMENT

French Attitude

Paris, June 25.

France's attitude towards the Anglo-German Naval Agreement has been formally defined in a resolution unanimously passed by the Chamber of Deputies, which states that in view of the fact that the Agreement annuls clauses of the Versailles Treaty, and that the Washington Treaty was only accepted because of the clauses of the former Treaty, the Committee considers the Agreement to have the necessary consequence of restoring France's complete liberty in naval matters until the conclusion of new agreements.

The Naval Committee invites the Government to take all necessary measures to ensure that France will always have in the Mediterranean and the Atlantic Ocean sufficient naval forces to assure her security.

M. Petri, the Minister of Navy, in a candid speech preceding the adoption of the resolution, indicated that he did not think it would be necessary at present to begin building battleships, but that it would be best to await information that Germany was building up to the limit of naval construction before France follows suit. Reuter.

NEW MEASURES

Paris, June 25.

Speaking before the Parliamentary Naval Committee on Tuesday on the Anglo-German Naval Agreement, the War Minister, Petri, defined the attitude of the French Government, declaring that by this new step the provisions of the Treaty of Versailles were annulled, hence the Washington Naval Agreement, which France had signed on the supposition that the Versailles Treaty would retain its validity, was no longer binding on France. That is to say through the signature of the Anglo-German Naval Agreement, France had recovered unrestricted liberty respecting naval armaments until some new agreement was made.

The French Government, concluded Petri, have had to take new measures to assure safety in the Mediterranean and the Atlantic Ocean. Transoceanic Kuo Min.

EXPORT DUTIES IN CHINA

The Revised List

Nanking, June 26.

One hundred and thirty-eight items are included in the revised list of export duties promulgated yesterday.

Eighty-eight items are added to the free list including sea products, dye wood, cotton goods, tobacco, soap, alcohol, matches, candles, confectionery, sugar and fruits.

The duty on fifty items have been reduced including poultry, eggs, egg products, preserved meat, horns and bones, bristles, mushrooms and other edibles.

One hundred and thirty-two items are not affected. It is estimated that the Government will be losing three million dollars in revenue as the result of revisions not yet effective but it is understood that they are taking effect simultaneously with the abolition of interport duties and enforcement of measures for making up the loss in revenue. The latter is expected to be promulgated shortly. Reuter.

NORTH CHINA INTERESTS

Commons Questions

London, June 26.

Asked in the House of Commons to-day by Sir W. H. Sugden (Con., W. Leyton) what measures were being taken to protect British business interests in North China and what steps it was proposed to protect treaty rights and the "Open Door" policy "already rendered inoperative in Manchuria," Sir Samuel Hoare replied that such had not been affected by recent events. The situation at the moment did not appear to demand special British Government action and the course of their policy in the Far East was directed towards the object mentioned in the question.

Replying to Mr. C. Nunn (Con., Whitehaven), the Foreign Secretary said that he was unaware of any "disturbance in the administration of the Kailan Mines during the recent Japanese troop movements in North China."

There has been no threat to the principle of the "Open Door" in North China, said Sir Samuel Hoare and therefore the question of an assurance from the Japanese Government that it be preserved as asked by Mr. Nunn has not arisen. Reuter.

SUBMARINE WARFARE TO BE AVOIDED

Undertaking By Germany

London, June 25.

Germany has undertaken never again to resort to unrestricted submarine warfare. This important fact was made known in the House of Commons to-day by the first Lord of the Admiralty, Sir Bolton Eyres-Monsell, when replying to a question asked by Vice Admiral Campbell as to whether, during the recent Naval discussions, the German representatives had revealed the policy of the German Government as regards the use of submarines in war. The first Lord said "during the discussion on the many points of detail concerning the existing Naval Treaties, the German representatives stated that Germany is prepared to adhere to the rules regarding submarine warfare as set out in part four of the London Naval Treaty and to accept them for herself irrespective of whether they are adhered to by all other powers."

The first Lord read the rules referred to and added that "this means that Germany has agreed never again to resort to what was known during the war as unrestricted submarine warfare."

Part four of London Naval Treaty reads as follows: The following are accepted as the established rules of international law. Firstly, in their action with regard to merchant ships, submarines must conform to the rules of international law to which surface vessels are subject. Secondly, in particular, except in the case of persistent refusal to, on being duly summoned or of active resistance to visit or search a warship whether surface vessel or submarine, may not sink or render incapable of navigation a merchant vessel without having first placed the passengers and crew and ships papers in a place of safety.

For this purpose the ships' boats are not regarded as a place of safety unless the safety of the passengers and crew is assured in existing sea and weather conditions by the proximity of land or the presence of another vessel which is in a position to take them on board. High contracting parties invite all other powers to express their assent to the above rules.

Replying to further questions the first Lord said that part four of the London Treaty was signed by Great Britain, the United States, Japan, France and Italy but the only powers juridically bound by it were Great Britain, the United States and Japan because France and Italy did not ratify. It was true that Germany, as well as Britain, favoured the abolition of submarines but unfortunately at present the other countries were not agreed upon it.

The Prime Minister stated that it was proposed to invite representatives of the French, Italian and Soviet Governments to visit London for discussions on naval armaments but he could at the moment give no further information. British Wireless.

NEW ERA IN WIRELESS

Use Of Decimetre Waves

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press").
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1889. Received, June 26, 1.30 p.m.)

Berlin, June 26.

A new era in wireless, whose possibilities are so great that competent experts hesitate at this age to predict any limits, are revealed by successful researches pursued unrelentingly during the last eighteen months by two German engineers, Scharian and Runge, belonging to the renowned Telefunken Company. What they have accomplished was demonstrated at the Telefunken Experimental Wireless Station at Grossglocke, then on the outskirts of Berlin, and afterwards on board a steamer cruising on the Muegelsee, a lake near Berlin, when the researchers themselves explained the significance of their work to technical pressmen.

Briefly they expressed the achievement which consists of the practical utilisation of the so-called "Decimetre Waves" whose existence was first observed thirty years ago by the German wireless pioneer Hertz, but whose practical exploitation it was previously not possible to attempt chiefly owing to the lack of suitable instruments and apparatus. Some idea of what might follow, now that the decimetre waves have been made available to technology is evident if the well-known facts about other waves are recalled. For instance ordinary telegraphy depends upon the utilisation of waves of very great lengths, sometimes measuring many kilometres; broadcasting depends upon those of medium length down to about three hundred kilometres; and radio wireless, whereby a lot of atmospheric disturbances are eliminated, depends upon the short waves down to ten metres; television depends upon the ultra-short waves between ten and one metres; while the latest waves, whose practical application has hardly yet begun, have lengths between one metre and ten centimetres, which is the length of a man's finger.

LITTLE ENERGY

The decimetre waves can only be used over distances comparable with the range of human eyesight say up to a distance of fifty miles, but they possess a peculiarity which like light can be focussed into pencils or beams and thus directed undiminished in intensity wherever desired, whereas medium waves need in broadcasting

LORD LUKE

Explains Britain's Stand

Paris, June 25.

Profound disagreement in the question of immediate currency stabilisation was manifested in today's sitting of the International Chambers of Commerce, particularly between the British official delegation and business leaders from other countries, including those of the Gold Bloc.

The Gold Bloc representatives pressed the demand that Britain should agree to a resolution calling for a conference of Governments for the purpose of introducing immediate stabilisation.

But Lord Luke, in a statement on British monetary policy, said the question of stabilisation went hand in hand with a discussion of the removal of excessive trade barriers. That was Britain's stand, he said, though he reaffirmed the belief that there was much in the recognition of the fundamental principle that international currencies must be settled by the sale of goods and service, instead of by the transfer of gold and silver. spread spherically in all directions and hence requires immense quantities of energy for their transmission and moreover overlap, interfere and disturb one another eventually, the decimetre waves only need infinitesimal energy for lineal transmission, both transmitter and receiver valves—which are both based on the principle of Habbani valve, another German invention—being only one and a half inches long, and are not affected by the weather. One practical advantage of this is that by the use of decimetre waves communication can be established and maintained between two points without any possibility of an outside intercepting. All this is necessary is that the sender and receiver both use the same wave-length and point the beams towards each other. As the whole apparatus is exceedingly tiny—and incidentally inexpensive—this forebushadows the day of real wireless telephony over short distances. Transoceanic Kuo Min.

SEVERE RAIN STORM

Breaks Over London

London, June 25.

Severe thunderstorms broke over London and much of Southern England this afternoon. One man was killed several houses struck and other damage was done by heavy hail and rain. The temperature which had reached eighty-five degrees highest point this year, fell ten degrees in a few minutes.

Airmen approaching London during the afternoon reported fourteen storms breaking over the metropolitan area.

The weather seriously interfered with the tennis championships at Wimbledon and many other sporting events. The Open golf championship was continued to-day in rain and mist.

Two qualifying rounds were completed by the open champion Henry Cotton and R. Burton in 171, and by Macdonald Smith, a Scottish born American, in 172. British Wireless.

"HELEN" WINS EASILY But Rain Spoils Programme At Wimbledon

London, June 25. A heavy thunderstorm curtailed the lawn tennis championships at Wimbledon to-day. Play was only possible on four courts which were covered with tarpaulins. The remainder were under water.

The Duke of Kent arrived before play commenced at 5.15 o'clock and saw the American girl, Mrs. Helen Wills-Moody dispose of the Hungarian star, Miss Baumgarten, 6-0, 6-1, in thirty minutes.

Mrs. Moody has no quite reached her standard of three years ago, but she is hitting glorious forehand winners. She revealed a new stroke, also, on back-hand, very short, widely angled, soft shot, travelling across the court and falling dead near the net.

Another first rounder, Miss Helen Jacobs of America, beat Miss Nellie Adamson of Belgium, but not so handily as Mrs. Moody beat her opponent. The scores in this match were 6-3, 6-2.

MISS ROUND'S GAME

In a second round match, Fran Sperling of Germany beat Miss Beazley of Great Britain, 6-0, 6-2.

Miss Dorothy Round, the holder, defeated Miss McOstrich, also of Britain, 8-6, 6-3. In another second round match, the champion was sorely pressed at times in the first set. She had a bye in the first round.

There was some brilliant play in the men's doubles when the Japanese pair, Nishimura and Yamagishi, accounted for the Americans, Hines and Culley. They won 6-4, 6-1, 6-3. Meanwhile, Allison and Van Ryn, America's hopes for the doubles title, eliminated Spence and David, of Britain, 6-4, 6-1, 6-3.

JAPANESE IMPRESS

Japan's men's doubles team, Nishimura and Yamagishi, won in straight sets from the Americans, Hines and Culley, the scores being 6-4, 6-1, 6-3. This was the first doubles match in Wimbledon's first round.

There was great contrast between the players, the Japanese being particularly diminutive and the Americans very tall. They were giants by comparison, and their hurricane strokes produced a bullet-fast delivery.

The Japanese started slowly, but they gradually found and pierced the holes in their opponents' defences. Their low volleys and shrewd placements were both brought off with delightful cross-court angled returns.

After reaching two-all in the first set, the Japanese showed greater fleetness of foot and got command at the net, "killing" laborious manoeuvres on the other side of the court with deft thrusts.

POPULAR WIN

In the second set the Japanese dominated play due to their better team work. They only lost on Hines' service. The game was then suspended owing to rain, but they continued later in a drizzle. The Japanese finally ran out easy winners.

The victory was a popular one and the play of the Japanese pair earned some golden opinions. It is considered that it will need a really strong team to eliminate these contenders.

Nishimura, interviewed by Reuters, said to-day's was not a hard match. He paid a tribute to his partner's play.

The Kingsley-Itoth vs. Lysaght-Cooper combination doubles match was postponed owing to the rain and the condition of the courts.

NEGRO BOXER'S SUCCESS

Heavy Punishment For Carnera

New York, June 25. Seventy thousand spectators hailed Joe Louis, the negro boxer from Detroit, as another Jack Johnson when he beat Primo Carnera in a technical knock out in the sixth round of their 15-round elimination contest for the world's heavyweight boxing championship.

The negro's murderous attack reduced the Italian to a pitiful sight, his face and chest being smeared with blood from a cut in the corner of his mouth.

After being battered for five rounds, during which he was felled four times, Carnera looked pitifully towards the referee in the sixth round as though he wanted the fight stopped, which the referee did.

In the first round, Joe Louis landed half a dozen stinging lefts and rights to the jaw almost without reply. Carnera seemed unaccountably nervous.

Carnera landed a left and a right to the head in the second round, but the negro got under his guard with hard body blows.

In the third round, Joe Louis forced the Italian against the ropes and landed blows on the body and on the face after Carnera had stopped many punches with his arms. Louis also landed three stinging blows to the stomach.

Carnera commenced the fourth round with more confidence and forced Louis towards the ropes where he landed two powerful punches over the negro's head and five left jabs which were followed by a right to the head. Louis, however, replied with two terrific left-hooks to the jaw.

Having taken heavy punishment as the result of swift lefts to the head and body in the fifth round, Carnera looked ready to drop when staggered by a right hook. The fall, however, saved him.

HOME CRICKET

Two Centuries For Surrey

London, June 25. E. R. T. Holmes, the Surrey cricketer who has now been included in the Second Test, and J. C. Squires both making three-figure scores assisted in Surrey winning by eight wickets against Worcester.

R. E. S. Wyatt missed his century by two runs playing for Warwick who lost to Northampton on the first innings.

The South Africans scored a victory over Yorkshire, an unfinished century by H. B. Cameron for the tourists and good bowling by Balaskas in his attack on the County batsmen in both innings being features of the match.

Results as cabled by Reuters were: Surrey beat Worcestershire by 8 wickets at the Oval.

Surrey: 433 (J. C. Squires 143, E. R. T. Holmes 114) and 75 for 2. Worcester: 157 (P. G. H. Fender 7 for 39) and 350 (Martin 149, E. R. T. Holmes 4 for 61).

Northamptonshire beat Warwickshire on the first innings at Northampton.

Warwick: 206 (R. E. S. Wyatt 98) and 144 for 3.

Northants: 239 (Paine 7 for 99).

The South Africans beat Yorkshire by 128 runs at Sheffield.

S. Africans: 253 and 301 for 7 dec. (H. B. Cameron 193 out not).

Yorkshire: 201 (Balaskas 4 for 55) and 235 (Balaskas 8 for 99).

In the sixth round Louis felled the Italian for a count of three with a smashing right hook. He had him down again with a left and right to the head. Carnera pluckily rose, but was twice knocked down following left hooks to the head. On the last occasion he looked so dazed that the referee stopped the fight at the count of four.

LAWN BOWLS

A.R. Dallah Wins

Several interesting open pair bowls games were played yesterday the results being very much as expected.

On the C.S.C.C. green the Craigengower pair M. J. Medina and J. Cavanagh accounted for the Bowling green pair J. Russell and A. McFarlane, by 21 shots to 13. The standard was quite on the high side with Russell sending in some good woods. Of the two skips Cavanagh was the steadier receiving admirable support from Medina. The winners scored three twos, one three, one four and eight singles compared to the losers one two, two threes and six singles.

DALLAH THROUGH

On the same green A. R. Dallah had the better of L. de Rome in the continuation of their game which was left off on June 12 with Dallah leading by 11 shots to 10 on the 12th head.

Yesterday Dallah had the measure of de Rome from the start and allowed the latter only one single throughout the game. Dallah scored two twos, a four and two singles.

GAME UNFINISHED

The pairs game between L. A. R. Duncan and R. Duncan and H. H. Rose and J. M. Purvis was not finished on the Football Club Green. The game was called off on the 14th head with the score at 9 all. The standard was high, all the players showing good form.

GLENDENNINGS OUT

On the Talkoo green C. G. Silva and his cubmate F. X. M. da Silva beat the Glendennings by 22 shots to 15. The score does not in the least suggest an easy victory for the Portuguese as up till the 17th head the Glendennings were leading by 15 shots to 13. The Glendennings thereafter stopped scoring while the Portuguese pair notched a four, followed by a three on the next two heads. Another two singles on the last two heads gave them 22 points as against the Glendennings' 15.

GRIMMIT WINS

On the Electric Green the holder of the open pairs, F. J. Jones and A. W. Grimmit easily accounted for J. E. Henson and S. A. Bright by 27 shots to 14. The holders played brilliantly throughout and was at no time extended by their opponents. Their play yesterday augurs well for their future competition.

C.C.C. PAIR WIN

R. F. Luz and H. Beer played a great game to eliminate R. Goodman and R. Lapsley in the open pairs by 25 shots to 14. The players contributed much to the standard of the play and on more than one occasion the ex-champion Luz pulled off a great shot with his clever draws.

The game was very keenly contested and it was a ding dong struggle from the start. At the 12th head the score stood at 10 shots all and on the next head Beer and his partner scored a two. From this stage Goodman and his mate did not seem able to do much and the C.C.C. pair did almost the balance of the scoring until on the 18th and 18th heads when the losers scored a two on each head.

PUBLIC SCHOOL OR DAY SCHOOL?

Which is the better for your son—to go to a public school or to be a day boy at school?

The question was raised by Mr. Justice Swift during a case in the King's Bench Division. He asked Sir William Jowitt, K.C.:

"Would you say that, given ideal circumstances, a boy is better at home than at a public school? Some people think a boy never ought to leave home. Other people think that, at as early an age as reasonably possible, he should be sent to a boarding school."

Sir William Jowitt:—It is my boy, he should go to a boarding school. If I found the boy did not like it very much I should bring him home and let him stay at

LEAGUE TENNIS

I.R.C. Beaten

I.R.C. were badly beaten by the C.S.C.C. in the "B" Division of the tennis league yesterday. With the exception of J. S. A. Curreen and M. O. Hoosen who managed to obtain two sets, the other Indian pairs did not contribute any.

Full scores were:

K.C.C. TROUNCED

On the Chinese Recreation Club ground Kowloon Cricket Club were beaten by the home team to the tune of 8½ sets to 1½.

G. C. Burnett and J. Thomson played splendidly when they met L. F. Hon and F. K. Lau, probably the best pair in the Chinese side, and held them to a draw. This C.R.C. pair won their other two sets with the loss of but 2 games.

The results were as follows:—
Y. P. Tsui and P. F. Chop (C.R.C.)
beat A. W. Ramsey and Hesse 6-2 beat L. Jack and L. A. Oppenheim 6-3 beat G. C. Burnett and J. Thomson 6-4

ROYAL NAVY CUP POLO

Fusiliers Defeat Lincolns

Playing in the quarter final of the Royal Navy Cup in the Polo Tournament, at the Hong Kong Polo Club ground at Kowloon, yesterday afternoon, the Royal Welsh Fusiliers defeated the Lincolns by 8 goals to 7½ in an exciting game.

The losers received a plus 3 handicap, but the Fusiliers were in good form, and just managed to pull the game off.

Goal scorers were: Fusiliers—Mr. Rose Price 4, Captain Gwyder Jones 1, Captain Murray-Lewis 2, Mr. Parker Jervis 1. Lincolns: Mr. Wilson 2, and Captain Lawe 2.

In the other game played, the "Staff" defeated the Royal Artillery in the semi-final by 7 goals to 4. The R.A. received a plus 1 handicap but were outclassed by the winners.

Goal scorers were: "Staff"—Captain Shannon 4, Major Annesley 1, Lt. Col. Williamson 1, Major Drennan 1. Royal Artillery—Mr. Ropes 1, Mr. Baker Carr 1, Mr. Perelman 1.

The other semi-final game to be decided is between the "Civilians" and the Fusiliers, which will in all probability take place some time next week. The winners of this contest will meet the "Staff" in the final.

MISS PAM BARTON

Elbow Dislocated

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 7. Miss Pam Barton, the noted championship golfer, has met with an accident in Ireland which riding near her father's home town in Co. Fermanagh. She was thrown from her horse, which tripped at a hole in the road, and dislocated her elbow. An X-ray examination revealed that there were no further complications.

Miss Barton, who was expected to return from Ireland this week-end, is unlikely to play golf for some time, and will be unable to take part in the match against France on June 22 at Worpleston.

THE RIFLE ASSOCIATION

Applications For Membership

At a council meeting of the newly formed Rifle Association, held in the board room of the Polo Club ground at Kowloon, yesterday, Major Steers, the Hon. Secretary informed the gathering that up till that morning he had received sixty applications for full membership while that for affiliated membership ran into four figures. It was also announced that His Excellency the Officer Administering the Government had kindly consented to become the patron of the Association.

Lt. Col. H. L. Murrow, D.S.O., the president of the Association, was in the chair and it was decided by the meeting to publish, as early as possible, the year book. It was also agreed that a score book on the lines of the one prepared by the Hon. Secretary will in Singapore, should be prepared as early as possible.

MEDALS PRESENTED

In the course of the meeting, Major Steers offered to present certain medals to be competed for by Affiliated Rifle Clubs, the winners being entitled to shoot in a special competition restricted to them only at the local Bley meeting which will be held next winter.

As regards the question of range accommodation, the council appointed a committee to look into the matter and after it was announced that the Commandant of the H.K.V.D.C. had consented to become a vice-patron and Mr. A. W. G. H. Grantham had accepted the invitation to become one of the three vice-presidents, the meeting was adjourned.

GOLF RECORD BROKEN

Sensational Scores Returned

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 7. R. Burton (Hooton), who tied for second place with Henry Cotton in the recent Dunlop-Southport golf tournament, shattered the new record for the Sand Moor course, Leeds, with an amazing round of 65.

The old record of 67, set up by E. W. Jarman, was equalled by A. H. Padgham and W. J. Cox, the latter of whom led the field with the astonishing aggregate of 135. Several other players broke 70.

It was a day of phenomenal golf, almost crazy golf, on the Sand Moor course, where the second of the two qualifying rounds of the "Yorkshire Evening News" £750 professional tournament to qualify 32 players for first round of the match play stages—was played.

First A. H. Padgham, last year's winner, came in with a score of 67 to equal the record set up by E. W. Jarman. Archie Compston and J. J. Bussan, the match play champion, followed with rounds of 68; and then R. Burton, who tied with Henry Cotton for second place in the recent Dunlop-Southport tournament returned a brilliant score of 65 to shatter the record.

This did not exhaust the brilliant golf for W. J. Cox, of Addington, who had a 68 the previous day, brought in another 67 to take the lead with the remarkably low aggregate for 36 holes of 135.

It was Burton's approach play that gave him his astonishing figures, for the longest putts that he holed were one of three yards at the thirteenth, and one of four yards at the seventeenth. And singularly enough he did not get a two at any of the four short holes; "but he had a two at the eleventh, a hole of 369 yards with a par of four, where he holed a full niblick shot."

His only error was at the third where he missed a yard putt for a four; and he had another five, at the fourteenth, the longest hole on the course. His figures were:

Out 4 3 5 4 4 4 3 4 3—31; total 65.

Padgham, after a perfect display of golf, was out in 31. After the first three holes he was four strokes under par. At the long fifth he had an "eagle" three, and did the next four holes in par figures.

On the homeward journey he was held up through congestion on the course, and this may have cost him his chance of beating the record. He was seven under fours after the twelfth; but after a considerable wait he had a five at the thirteenth, and he took a disastrous six at the next hole, where he cut his second shot and missed his pitch up the bank.

Burton's partner was W. J. Cox; while J. J. Bussan and Archie Compston, both of whom had scores of 68, played together, so that there were two partnerships in which the golf was brilliant. Compston was very steady, being out in 35 and home in 33.

GOLF CLUBS BY SPALDING

It is easier to perfect one swing than six. The greatest aid to better golf—initiated and developed by Spalding—has been the creation of exact relation of lie to lie, pitch to pitch, weight to weight and balance to balance. When you purchase a set of Spalding clubs, you obtain these essential points.

THE BRITISH OPEN

Qualifiers For Title

London, June 26.
Players with scores of 153 and under qualified for the British Open Golf Championship which is to be played at Muirfield over the final four rounds.

All the prominent competitors qualified, though W. Lawson Little, the British Amateur, title holder, and Picard had close shaves.

An interesting non-qualifier was Jack White, the Open Champion of 1904, who failed by one stroke. Rex Hartley, who was yesterday's leading amateur, blew up with an 85, for a total of 156.

J. J. Bussan, of Panama, returned scores of 71 and 71. Lees had rounds of 71 and 74. P. Alliss 70 and 75. King 74 and 72. P. J. Mahon 70 and 77. Jack McLean 74 and 76 and C. Sayer 58 and 80.

The qualifiers were:—

JUNIOR CARLTON CLUB

Lord Derby Resigns Presidency

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 7.
As a result of the recent imbroglio at the Junior Carlton Club I hear that Lord Derby has resigned its presidency, writes a correspondent.

His example has been followed by Sir John Beale, the chairman of the committee, and Col. Ogilvie, the chairman of the house committee.

The origin of the trouble dates back to plans for an ambitious reconstruction of the house committee.

The origin of the trouble dates back to plans for an ambitious reconstruction of the ground floor and for redecoration of other parts of the club. These were estimated to cost at total of £36,000.

At the annual general meeting, however, which was unusually well attended, it was noticed that the motion, instead of authorising the committee to spend, "not more than £40,000," inadvertently read "not less than £40,000."

RAPID GROWTH

As the result of the confusion and the heat engendered by this discovery the whole proposal was turned down.

Some attribute these misunderstandings to the recent rapid growth of the club in numbers as the result of the recruiting of many young members.

The Junior Carlton Club some years ago carried out considerable structural improvements, including a swimming pool, and a women's annexe, which have enhanced its popularity.

It is to be hoped that the present domestic difficulties of the club will not impair this.

PETERSEN AGAIN BEATEN

London, June 25.

Walter Neusel, the German heavyweight, defeated the British champion, Jack Petersen, in their return engagement at the Wembley Stadium to-night.

In February last, Neusel whipped the Englishman, Petersen's seconds throwing "in the towel" in the eleventh round to save their man from further punishment. To-

GOLF NEWS

The Amateur Contests

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 7.

Following the series of trial games at Woodhall Spa last weekend, the English Golf Union have selected the following team to represent England in the amateur international matches at Royal Lytham and St. Annes on August 7, 8 and 9:

H. G. Bentley (Heskeith), E. W. Fiddian (Stourbridge), R. W. Hartley (Royal St. George's), S. Lunt (Mossley), P. W. L. Risdon (Coombe Hill), T. J. Thirsk (Bridlington), I. S. Thomas (Formby), A. S. G. Thompson (Aldeburgh), Dr. W. Tweddell (Stourbridge), A. R. Walton (Blackpool), J. Woodlam (Hooton), J. P. Zacharias (Formby).

Reserves: C. Stowe (Penn), C. W. Timmis (Royal Liverpool), H. L. Holden (Bowden), C. D. Gray (Roya Mid-Surrey), H. N. M. Fogg (Royal Liverpool), and J. E. Gent (Bradford Manor).

The team is given in alphabetical order and not in the order of play. One or two of the chosen players were unable to take part in the trial matches, owing to reasons which the Selection Committee accepted.

MIDLAND WOMEN'S CHAMPIONSHIP

At her first attempt Miss K. Bentley (Oulton) won the Midland women's championship at Hawkstone Park, near Shrewsbury, yesterday. She had a hard struggle in the semi-final against Mrs. J. B. Challen, a former Worcester-shire champion, but won on the last green.

Mrs. Hickman, formerly Miss K. Beard, a well-known South of England player, won the other semi-final. Against Miss Bentley in the final she was 2 up at the fifth, but Miss Bentley's figures for the next six holes, all of which she won, were 3 5 4 3 5 4. Four up. Miss Bentley won the thirteenth to be dormy 5, and a half at the fourteenth gave her the match.

SCOTTISH WOMEN'S FOURSOMES

Two young Scottish sisters, the Misses Isa and Jessie Anderson, will meet two English players, Miss G. Craddock-Hartopp, twice English Midland champion, and Miss Bridget Newell, in the 18-hole final of the Bystander Scottish foursomes to-day. Semi-finals:

Miss I. Anderson and Miss J. Anderson (Craigie Hill) (19) beat Miss Mardin Smith (Knebworth) and Miss B. Steele (N. Berwick) (27), 5 and 3.

Miss G. Craddock-Hartopp and Miss B. Newell (Cavendish) (6) beat Mrs. W. Greenlees (Troon) and Miss R. Rabbidge (Worplesdon) (1), 4 and 2.

SCOTTISH PROFESSIONAL TITLE

James McDowall (Turnberry) won the Scottish professional championship at Longliddry yesterday with an aggregate for the 72 holes of 287. Mark Seymour, the holder, shared fourth place. MISS WETHERED AGAIN WINS IN U.S.

Miss Joyce Wethered yesterday gained her second victory in four matches in America. In partnership with W. Blaney, the Massachusetts amateur champion, she defeated Francis Outmet, former American open champion and Walker Cup player, and Miss Jean Bauer, of Providence (R.I.), by 7 and 6 in a four-ball exhibition match.

Miss Wethered was out in 42, and took 14 strokes for the remaining three holes on the homeward journey. Her partner reached the turn in 37—one over par—and took 12 for the last three holes.

Outmet was out in 38 and took 14 for the next three holes, while his partner did the first nine holes in 45 and the next three in 15. After the match had been won at the 12th it was decided to play out the remaining holes. Miss Wethered's card for the homeward journey was 43, making a total of 85; Blaney returned in 37 for a 74 (two over par); and Outmet took 42 for a total of 80, and his partner 48 to finish in 93.

Miss Wethered's superior driving and long iron-play surprised the 2,000 spectators, who repeatedly applauded the Englishwoman's play.

STABILISATION OF CURRENCY

Problem Discussed At Congress

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Paris, June 25.

Tuesday's first plenary session of the 8th congress of the International Chamber of Commerce discussed the problem of the stabilisation of currencies. The majority of the speakers emphasised the necessity and possibility of international stabilisation. Chief reservations came from the British delegates.

Professor Gregory, the well-known authority from the London School of Economics, stressed that he did not speak in the name of the British Government, or any other group who strongly advocated stabilisation. His views were supported by Professor Charles Rist of France and Otto Christian Fischer of Germany.

Gregory said "the result of the all round currency depreciation in the modern world is not an all-round recovery but a general increase of hindrances placed on foreign trade. The general uncertainty about the fate of the gold block countries leads to hoarding within their territories and uncertainties outside.

In short, the attempt to cure the world crisis by evaluation of currencies has created factors that are far greater obstacles to the world recovery than the original gold parties."

Otto Christian Fischer endorsed Gregory's words entirely adding "if we were to ask the question whether we will stabilise or prefer the continuation of the currency chaos there is only one answer, namely that without first stabilising currencies it is impossible to remove all hindrances whose eliminations is the condition upon which the gradual recovery of world trade depends."

Lord Luke, speaking for the British Government said "The Chancellor of the Exchequer repeatedly declared that England's return to the gold standard depends upon:—the increase of price levels to adjust selling to production prices; the removal or limitation of the present hindrances to international trade, a definite regulation of war debts and the introduction of a system that would prevent the fluctuation of the purchasing power of gold depending on the currency and political reasons."

REINSDORF EXPLOSION VICTIMS

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Berlin, June 25.

At the opening of the session of the Committee formed for the administration of donations for the victims in the Reinsdorf explosion disaster, it was announced on Tuesday that the sum hitherto received amounted to 600 thousand marks.

Eighty-five thousand marks have already been paid out in order to alleviate immediate distress while the factories are continuing to pay wages to the relatives of the workers who were killed or disabled, till the question of permanent pension is settled.

PRUSSIAN COUNCIL DISCUSSION

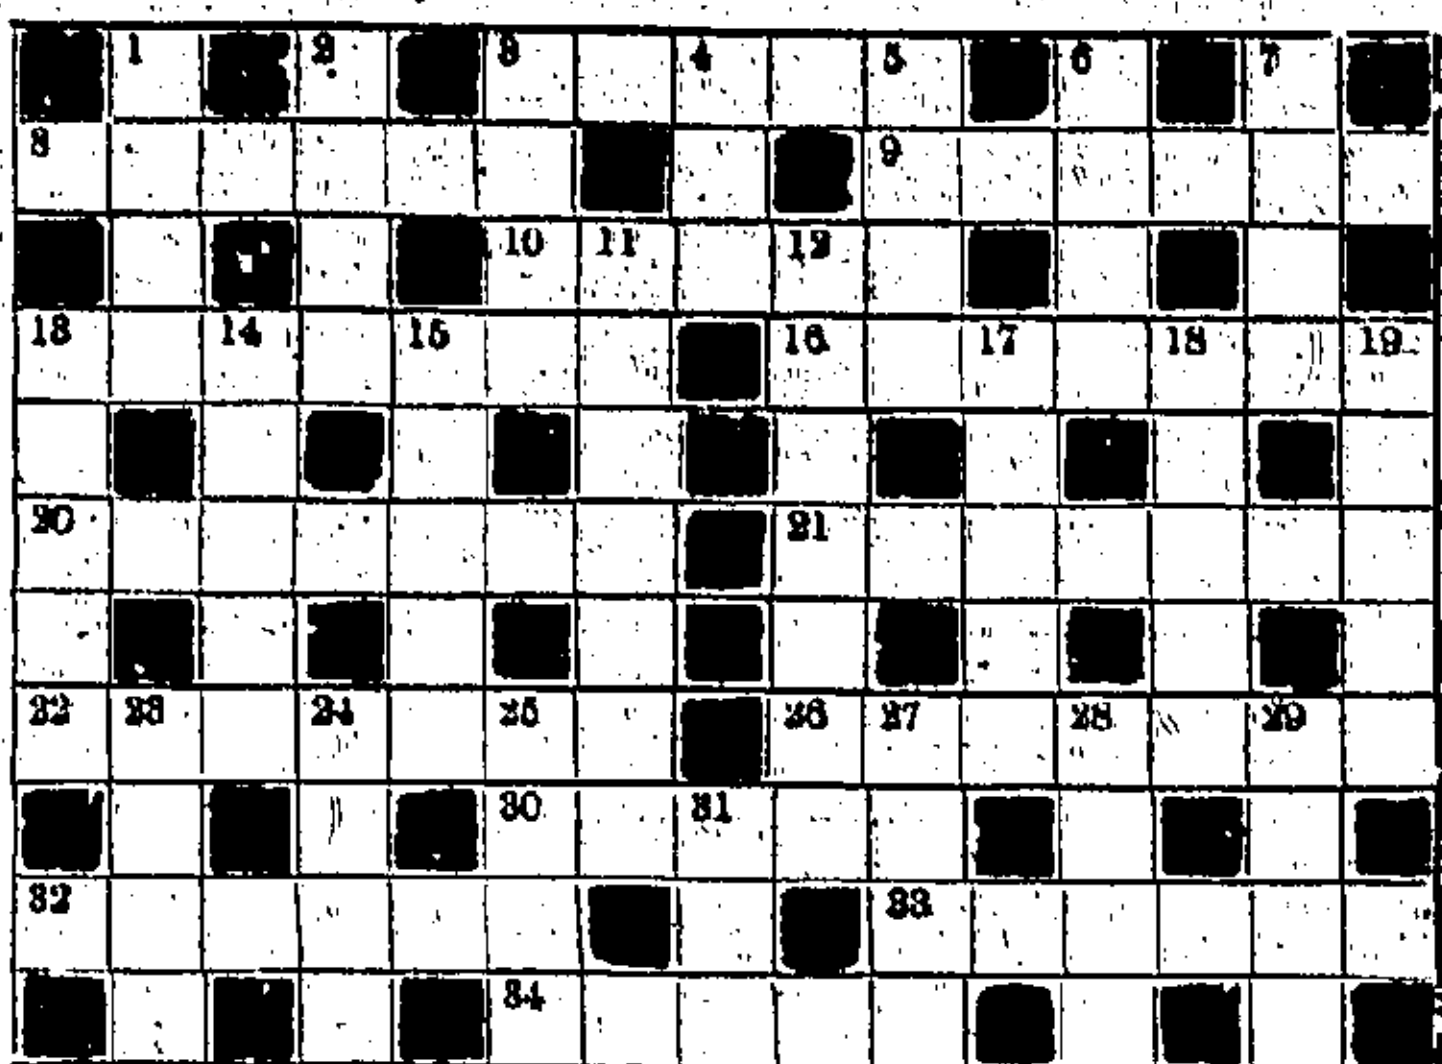

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Berlin, June 25.

The Prussian State Council met at Potsdam on Tuesday under the chairmanship of Premier Goering in order to discuss the future form to be taken by the rural communities in the Third Reich. The Minister Without Portfolio, Kerrl, submitted proposals for the enlargement of the rural communities as a result of the recent journeys undertaken through Germany in this connection at the request of Goering. The supplementary report was submitted by the civil governor and district leader Kube who dealt especially with the position of the eastern frontier provinces of Prussia while the Minister of Interior of the Reich, Frick, explained the main lines along which the question would be further pursued.

The session was concluded by Goering pointing out that the in-

Here is Health

"The user of Sanatogen is richly rewarded in freedom from languor, a gain of strength and activity and alertness of mind."

writes Dr. C. L. Wheeler.

by taking SANATOGEN

This is the opinion that medical men have of Sanatogen; and when it is remembered that more than 25,000 physicians have written about the gratifying results they have obtained with Sanatogen, it becomes evident that you can trust this really exceptional tonic to help you, too.

Prof. Mann, formerly of Oxford University, explained the reason for the wonderful influence of Sanatogen on health, in these words:

"A building-up process goes on in the nerves after the administration of Sanatogen."

Start improving your health to-day. Take Sanatogen, and notice how fatigue and nervousness disappear. Take Sanatogen, and in a few weeks you will feel and look better than you have done for years. Follow the advice of these physicians and enjoy once more that sense of youthful health.
